One school impresses, one in bottom 10

by Pam Shingler
Editor

There is no reason for joy, nor for abject sorrow for Floyd Countians in the results of the Commonwealth Accountability Testing System (CATS) which school students participated in last spring and which were released Wednesday by the state Department of Education.

One local school was, however, among the bottom 10 elementary schools in the state. W.D. Osborne Elementary School ranked 10th from the bottom with an overall score of 40.1 on a 140-point scale.

Allen Central Middle School had an overall score of 39.6, but apparently at least 10 other middle schools in the state had lower scores, some dipping into the 20s.

Clark Elementary School had the highest score — 60.1 — of any Floyd County school. South Floyd High School had the top score — 54.7 — among county high schools.

Of 19 schools in the county, 100 achieved overall scores 50 above 50, around 35 percent of the goal score.

The tests measured achievements of students at three levels: fourth and fifth grades, seventh and eighth grades and 10-12 grades. Testing was done in seven categories: reading, math, science, social studies, arts and humanities, practical living and vocational skills, and writing.

"We're not generally pleased," said Phil Paige, assessment coordinator.

Harold native dies in accident Tuesday

Times Staff Report

The second fatal automobile accident in Floyd County in less than a week has claimed an Ohio man.

Ricky Gene Tackett, 40, of West Salem, Ohio, apparently lost control of his 1989 Oldsmobile Cutlass Tuesday night on KY 1426 at Dana, according to a Kentucky State Police report.

In the accident, which occurred at about 8:20 p.m., Tackett's vehicle apparently struck a concrete bridge, went airborne and then hit a tree. He was transported to Pikeville Methodist Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

The victim was the son of Richard Tackett and Margie Shepherd Tackett of Harold. He was a heating and cooling installer in Ohio and of the Baptist faith.

He is also survived by a son, Rick Gene Tackett Jr. of Medina, Ohio, and two sisters, Dana Tackett of Prestonsburg and Rita Akers of Harold.

Funeral services, under the arrangement of Hall Funeral Home, will be Saturday at 11 a.m. at the funeral home chapel, with burial in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

Assisting KSP Tpr. Ryan Catron and Tpr. John McMahon were members of Respond Ambulance Service and Floyd County Rescue Squad.

An accident last Friday at Ivel took the life of a Pike County man, Jonathan C. Childers, 21, of Ashcamp.

Allen VFD deserves credit

Members of the Allen Volunteer Fire Department are among the most dedicated and faithful volunteers in Floyd County. In fact, they provided the lion's share of work during the rescue of construction worker Larry Burton Monday afternoon, when he was buried under dirt while working on the Allen sewer project. And what credit did these volunteers get? Unfortunately, they got none. They should have been listed first among those who participated in the rescue, and they deserve our recognition and appreciation.

Harold store burglarized

A call to 911 Monday from Thacker Auto Parts at Harold indicated to the Kentucky State Police that the store had been burglarized. Scott Thacker said the burglary was discovered on Monday, but it could have happened Saturday or Sunday night. The perpetrators stole a tool box loaded with tools valued at $500 and an electric impact wrench valued at $175. The burglar(s)

Hurricane Floyd victims to get more local help

Times Staff Report

Members of the Floyd County Rescue Squad are organizing another local aid effort for victims of Hurricane Floyd in North Carolina.

"It's worse than people can imagine," said squad member Richie Schoolcraft, who has been to the coastal area since the catastrophe. "One town has 10,000 people living in a gym."

The rescue squad is accepting donations of cleaning supplies (especially with disinfectant), water in gallon jugs, baby supplies (particularly food and diapers), brooms, mops and shovels.

"Anyone who's been through a flood knows what is needed," Schoolcraft said.

He added that supplies are needed because stores along the coast have been flooded, as well, and materials simply cannot be bought there. Heavy rains earlier this week compounded the water problem.

Schoolcraft said the garage door on the Central Avenue side of the rescue squad's building in Prestonsburg will be open and a tent will be put up in the county parking lot on the Court Street side of the building for donors to drop off supplies through next Thursday.

Squad members request that, if possible, the donations be put in boxes and labeled to make loading easier and more organized.

Rescue squad members also will pick up supplies donated by businesses or by individuals. Donors may call 606/886-8114 or 886-7053 to arrange for pick up. Schoolcraft said members are at the building "most of the time" and certainly in the evenings.

If the response is good, the group plans to get a tractor-trailer to transport the donations. Otherwise, members will take the supplies down in their own vehicles.

Schoolcraft said he expects four to six members to make the trip to North Carolina on Thursday and "to help in any way we can when we get there."

October domestic violence month

by Randell Reno
Staff Writer

Area agencies are calling for support in the fight against domestic violence on Saturday during a balloon launch at the Prestonsburg Community College Walking Track.

Many agencies dealing with domestic violence will have guest speakers urging the general public to stop the circle of violence in the home.

With October recognized as Domestic Violence Awareness

Month, purple ribbons will be available to those who will be in attendance for the ceremonies. The purple ribbons are worn in recognition of the fight against domestic violence. Balloons bearing the inscription, "I'm committed to peace in Kentucky homes," will be released following the program.

The speaking platform includes Mindy Thompson from WQHY, as the emcee, and Father Johnnie Ross of St. James Episcopal Church, who will give the invocation. Judge Julie Paxton will speak on family court and domestic violence, and Fonetta Elam of Mountain Comprehensive Care will speak on victim services and sexual assault.

Chris Griffith of the Christian Appalachian Project will speak on offender treatment counseling, and State Rep. Greg Stumbo is expected to speak on the legislative aspects of domestic violence. Floyd County Sheriff John K. Blackburn will speak on domestic violence and law enforcement.

The ceremonies are scheduled to start at 11 a.m. at the gazebo inside the walking track. The event is open to the public.

dinator for the school system. "The big problem is math. We're below in both region and state."
 Floyd County students got their highest scores in reading. Clark Elementary students scored 79.2 in that category, the highest in the system. Also scoring above 70 in reading were Allen, Duff and Prestonsburg elementaries. None of the middle or high schools scored in the 70s.
 In math, Clark, again, had the highest score, 61.1. It was the only school scoring above 60 in math.
 Likewise, Clark was tops among local schools in science achievement, with a score of 62.7.

However, two other schools, Betsy Layne and Prestonsburg high schools, scored above 60.
 South Floyd High School recorded the best score in social studies, 63.6. Allen Central tallied 61.3.
 In writing, South Floyd High School was also on top among county schools. The score was 62.1, with no other school breaking 60.
 Scores were low across the board in the arts and humanities category of testing. The highest score recorded was 37.9, by Betsy Layne Elementary, but two schools scored in the teens.
 The results were only slightly better in the category of practical living and vocational skills. Clark had the highest score, 47.5, with Duff and May Valley Elementary recording scores in the 40s.
 The long-term goal of the state Department of Education is for every school in the state to have an average, overall score of 100 on the 140-point scale within 15 years.

 "Two areas we are pleased with are elementary reading and writing," Paige said. "The index for elementary reading is 70."
 As for writing, Paige said only nine percent of students in the system are in the novice (or lowest) level. "At the middle school level in writing, the district is seven percent higher in both region and state," he said. "In secondary writing, the system is even with the state and slightly higher than the region."
 The tests administered last year replaced the controversial KIRIS tests. The CATS tests were developed by the state Board of Education.
 Because of the change in testing system, comparisons cannot be made with previous years. This new test starts the schools out with a clean slate.
 No schools in the state reached the goal of 100, but 41 exceeded 75 — only one of them, Pikeville High School, in this region.

 Of those schools scoring 40 or below, Education Commissioner Wilmer Cody said, "Those schools obviously have a lot of work to do. But hundreds of schools throughout the commonwealth, including high poverty schools, have demonstrated that they can substantially increase student performance over time. I believe all schools can do it."
 Floyd County Superintendent Paul Fanning agreed. "We've got a lot of work to do, but the scores show capability," he said yesterday.
 Fanning added that school officials have asked Linda Houghton, associate commissioner of education for the state, to "work with us on curriculum alignment, best practices and staff development."
 He said Houghton will point out strengths and areas that need to be developed. "We will set higher, but reasonable, expectations for administrators, teachers and especially students," he said.

Elect
DOUGLAS HALL
for CIRCUIT CLERK

I am the Democratic candidate for Floyd Circuit Clerk and I ask for your vote and support.

QUALIFIED TO SERVE
 I am a graduate of McDowell High School and have B.A. Degree in Business Administration specializing in Management from Morehead State University. This education qualifies me to do the duties of the office so does my work experience. I have worked not only as a coal miner, but for over ten years I've worked management of private business. I understand the demands and discipline of being an employer and handling thousands of dollars in a manner above reproach or any question of honesty.

CHARACTER TO SERVE
 You deserve a clerk that is not only qualified by education and experience, but who is both honest and accommodating to your needs. As to honesty, I intend to prove to you that I have such character in my service to you day by day. It is the one virtue that every public servant must have and it has been instilled into me since my youth beginning with my family.
 My parents are Denzil Ray and Donna Sue Parsons Hall of McDowell. My grand parents are the late W.J. and Maudie Vance Hall of Grethel and the late Ted Parsons and Margie Hamilton Parsons of McDowell.

My loving wife is Kelly Ann Stumbo Hall, the daughter of Larry Foster and Chris Griffith Stumbo of McDowell. Her grandparents are the late Foster and Edna Hopkins Stumbo of McDowell and the late Raymond Griffith and Anna Skaggs Griffith of Martin.

We have two wonderful children, Emily Ann, 5 years old, and Seth Douglas, 2 years old.

Family alone should never be the reason you vote for any candidate, but the experience of us all has taught us a persons roots help us judge the intent of the heart of honesty, kindness, and willingness to help in the time of need. That said, I am unashamed of my kin and trust who they are and the lives they have led will speak to you of good things that you can expect of me. I promise to you and my family to never fail to uphold the highest level of honesty in the performance of my duties.

I also pledge to you that I have the willingness to work hard and faithfully for you as Circuit Clerk. I am currently assessing every function of the Circuit Clerks office to make it as accommodating and pleasant for you to use as the system allows. My attitude is simple, I run the Clerk's office, but I run it for you, the citizens. I will strive daily to make your experience with this office reflect that. Any time I come short, tell me and I will listen and learn. My ambitions is to be the best Circuit Clerk I possibly can for you, for me, for all Floyd County. Help me do this, beginning with your vote and support; I promise you won't regret it!

School robbed

A television and VCR were taken from the Family Resource Center at John M. Stumbo Elementary School sometime Tuesday evening, according to Principal Roy Johnson. As far as the principal knows, nothing else was taken from the school, and there are no signs of vandalism. The incident is still under investigation.

Appellate court to hear Lillelid case appeals

by Bill Jones
 Staff Writer
 The Greeneville (Tenn.) Sun

Greeneville, Tennessee — The Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals, sitting in Knoxville, will hear oral arguments on October 26 in the appeals of the six Kentucky people convicted in the Lillelid murder case.

A spokeswoman for the court said on Monday that defense lawyers representing the six young people — Jason Blake Bryant, Natasha Wallen Cornett, Karen R. Howell, Edward Dean Mullins, Joseph Lane Risner and Crystal Renea Sturgill, all of the Big Sandy area — and a deputy Tennessee attorney general will deliver their arguments in what may be either a morning-long or afternoon-long session.

A ruling from the court on the defendants' appeals of their sentences — three terms each of life in prison without the possibility of parole, plus 25 years — isn't expected for at least several months after oral arguments are heard.

All six defendants are challenging the consecutive life-without-parole sentences imposed by Judge James E. Beckner on March 13, 1998, at the conclusion of a four-day sentencing hearing at the Greene County Courthouse. Beckner is Criminal Court judge of the Third Judicial District, of which Greene County is a part.

Because they pleaded guilty, the defendants cannot win their freedom on appeal, but at least some could win lesser sentences, should the appeals court find in their favor.

The defendants all pleaded guilty in February 1998, two days before jury selection for their trial had been scheduled to begin in Cleveland, Tennessee.

Judge Beckner had moved jury selection to the Bradley County town, in Middle Tennessee, in response to defense motions for a change of venue.

Once a jury had been selected in Bradley County, the proceeding would have been moved back to Greeneville, where the trial would have been conducted. It had been expected to take several weeks to complete.

But the defendants entered guilty pleas after accepting a plea agreement offered by Third Judicial District Attorney General Berkeley Bell that allowed them to avoid the death penalty.

Bell said after the guilty pleas were entered that all six defendants had to accept the plea agreement or go to trial as a group.

Karen Howell of Toler, then 17, and one of the two defendants not subject to the death penalty under state law because they were juveniles when the murders were committed, was the last to accept the plea agreement.

The other juvenile defendant was Jason Blake Bryant of Pike County, then 15.

During the sentencing hearing, Howell, Cornett, also of Toler, and Risner of Johnson County took the witness stand and testified that Bryant, alone, had shot the Lillelids.

Bryant testified, however, that Mullins of Toler and Risner were responsible for the shootings. (Sturgill is from Betsy Layne.)

Prospective jurors in Bradley County had not seen extensive pretrial media coverage of the Lillelid case because Bradley County is outside the Knoxville media market.

The victims in the case — Vidar and Delfina Lillelid and their children, Tabitha and Peter — lived in the Knoxville-area community of Powell and were returning home from a religious convention in Johnson City when they were kidnapped from an I-81 rest area near Baileyton, driven to isolated Payne Hollow Lane, and shot.

Vidar and Delfina Lillelid died alongside the gravel road from multiple gunshots. Tabitha, 6, died the next day in a Knoxville hospital of a gunshot to the head. Peter, then 2, survived despite serious gunshot wounds that cost him an eye and damaged his spine.

Vehicles involved in Lillelid case sold at auction Saturday

by Bill Jones
 Staff Writer
 The Greeneville (Tenn.) Sun

Greeneville, Tennessee — The two vehicles involved in the 1997 Lillelid murder case here were sold at auction Saturday.

According to the Greene County Sheriff's Department, the Dodge van owned by murder victims Vidar and Delfina Lillelid and a Chevrolet Citation driven to Greene County by the six young Kentuckians who later pleaded guilty to three counts of murder in the case were among vehicles sold Saturday morning at a sheriff's auction.

The Lillelid family's van brought $1,650, while the Chevrolet Citation fetched only $100, a sheriff's department spokesperson said. Both vehicles had been in storage since 1997 at a sheriff's department storage lot.

Sheriff's Department Chief Deputy John Jones said he understood that the proceeds from the sale of the two vehicles would go to a fund set up for Peter Lillelid, the only surviving member of the Lillelid family. Peter now lives with his paternal aunt and her family in Sweden and is still recuperating from injuries suffered in his 1997 shooting.

According to testimony presented during the defendants' March 1998 sentencing hearing, the Chevrolet was owned by defendant Joseph Lane Risner's mother and had been driven by Risner from Kentucky to an Interstate 81 rest area near Baileyton.

At the rest area, according to testimony, the six Kentuckians kidnapped the Lillelid family and drove them to isolated Payne Hollow Lane off Van Hill Road, north of Baileyton.

There, in a hail of gunfire, Vidar and Delfina Lillelid were shot to death; their daughter, Tabitha, 6, was fatally wounded; and their son, Peter, 2, was seriously wounded. Only Peter survived.

The Kentuckians allegedly fled the murder scene in the Lillelid family's van, running over Vidar and Delfina's bodies with the vehicle in the process. The Chevrolet was found abandoned at the murder scene.

The Kentuckians were captured two days later in Arizona at a U.S. Mexican border crossing point as the stolen Lillelid van attempted to re-enter the U.S. from Mexico. Mexican authorities had refused to allow the van to enter Mexico because two of the Kentuckians were juveniles and didn't have adult relatives with them.

All six now are serving three terms each of life without parole, plus 25 years, in various state prisons. They are appealing their sentences, however. The Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals is scheduled to hear oral arguments on those appeals on Oct. 26 in Knoxville.

In addition to Risner, those who pleaded guilty in the case were Jason Blake Bryant, Natasha Cornett, Karen Howell, Edward Dean Mullins and Crystal Sturgill.

Free G.E.D. classes

Do you need your high school equivalency diploma (G.E.D.)? Do you know most jobs require a diploma? Do you want to see if your basic skills are adequate for entering college, a vocational school or passing a required employment test? Enroll today in one of the free classes, around the county, suggests GED teacher Linda Bailey.

Classes are presently being offered at several family resource centers, Bailey says. Day classes are being held at five area school resource centers.

Students who qualify may be eligible for free or reduced lunch, at the school where they attend classes. Transportation services will, where possible, be provided to students who lack transportation to the school in which they attend adult education classes, according to Bailey.

Anyone interested in attending classes, can call the family resource center numbers that follow: May Valley Family Resource Center, 285-0321; McDowell Family Resource Center, 377-2678; John M. Stumbo Family Resource Center, 587-2233; Betsy Layne New Horizons Youth Services Center, 478-3389; Allen Elementary Family Resource Center, 874-0621, or call 886-7323 for other area locations.

Tobacco meetings set

Individuals who hold tobacco bases (producers and landowners) should have received an application form to apply for the Phase II Tobacco Settlement.

The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service can assist applicants in filling out the forms, and has scheduled training meetings.

The Prestonsburg meetings are scheduled for Monday, October 4, at 6 p.m. and Wednesday, October 6, at 1:30 p.m. Contact Theresa Scott at 606-886-2668 to register for either of these meetings. Pre-registration is required. The meetings will be held at the Floyd County Extension Office located at 921 South Lake Drive in Prestonsburg.

All completed Phase II applications must be postmarked no later than October 8.

MSU Preview Day

It's that time again—time for high school seniors to start making decisions about their futures.

Morehead State University would like to make the decision-making process a little easier by hosting a Preview Day on Saturday, October 2, on the campus.

"Preview days provide an opportunity for students to come to campus and get a taste of college life," said Cheryl Million, assistant director of admissions/recruitment.

The day begins with registration at 9 a.m., in the Adron Doran University Center. The future students will visit various departments, attend mini-classes and have campus tours guided by current MSU students, Million said.

Three additional Preview Days are scheduled for this school year: October 30, February 26 and March 25.

Additional information on the activity is available by calling the admissions office at 606/783-2000 or (800) 585-6781.

Kaplan LSAT prep at PC

Thinking about law school? If so, consider Kaplan's LSAT preparation classes presented at Pikeville College.

Classes begin Saturday, October 2, and run for 10 weeks at the Allara Library on the college campus.

The instructor is provided by Kaplan, which has helped students prepare for the law school entrance test for more than 60 years. The company is a subsidiary of The Washington Post.

In the 10 three-hour classes, participants will receive sample testing, diagnostic testing, foundation skills, targeted training, test-taking tips, practice exercises, and test day simulations. A home study package reinforces classroom exercises.

Saturday's opening class runs from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The nine remaining classes will be on Tuesdays from 6 to 9 p.m. through October and November.

The LSAT will be given nationally on December 4.

To register for the preparation classes or for more information, call Brenda Fitzpatrick at 1-800-950-5395.

TV'S EFFECTS ON CHILDREN

One of life's ironies is the fact that youngsters start back to school at roughly the same time that television networks begin a new season of programming.

Generally speaking, no two activities could be more directly opposite from one another than learning meaningful lessons and watching television shows.

Despite study after study revealing that children watch an enormous amount of television — and that they suffer ill effects from doing so — research continues to indicate that the amount of TV watched by children is increasing.

Shows targeted to America's youngest viewers tend to be solid performers in terms of ratings.

A report by BJK&E Media Group of Manhattan, a New York media-buying firm, found that children aged 2-11 watched an average of 312 hours of youth-oriented TV programs last year. (The report focused only on youngsters' viewing of children's programming; the amount of adult programming watched by kids in that age group was not studied.)

In 1997, by comparison, the research showed children watching an average of 295 hours of children's shows.

Again, this figure does not even include the hours of adult-oriented TV that may have been watched by those same children.

Interestingly, the "regular" TV networks — NBC, ABC, CBS and Fox — appear to be drawing a smaller percentage of young viewers for their children's programming. That fact, combined with an overall increase in the viewership of children's shows, reveals that more youngsters are switching from regular network TV to cable programs.

Boys, incidentally, watch an average of 53 more hours per year than girls.

The big winners in vying for children's attention are the Nickelodeon network and Cartoon network.

Other new outlets that appeal to youngsters include the Fox Family Network and Toon Disney, which will show Disney-produced cartoons.

The big losers, though, are the children themselves.

There is a direct correlation — an inverse connection — between the amount of time a child spends watching television and his or her physical fitness, academic achievement and attention span.

Few experts assert that children never should watch television.

The prospects, however, for the future of American children — and hence the future of America itself — would be much brighter, though, if the average American child were not glued to the tube and watched, say, just a few hours of TV per week.

Such a statistic likely would mean more reading, more time outdoors, more social interaction, more physical activity, better grades and more time with the family.

Speaking of family, it remains the parents' responsibility to monitor — and regulate — their children's TV habits. One must hope that parents will exercise that responsibility wisely.

Letters to the Editor

Figures don't add up

Editor:

As I write this letter, the strike at Highlands Regional is in Day 25. That's almost a month. We have been blessed with a lot of community support during this time and we want to say thank-you to all of those people. We can never tell you how much your support means to us. Sadly, though, we have no future negotiations set and it looks like the end is not in sight. We know it is hard for many people to understand this strike, and I can understand that. I, too, am confused about many things.

Every week I pick up a newspaper and there's a different letter from Kathy Rubado. She wants to talk about the "fair contract the hospital offered" and about the "circus atmosphere" at negotiations. I don't remember either of those things. She and I obviously have different memories of those negotiations.

Oh wait, I forgot. Kathy Rubado has never been at negotiations. That explains why we have different memories. Mine are based in reality; hers are based in fantasy. That clears up that confusion.

I am, however, still confused about Bud Warman. He was in Catlettsburg on the 17th when we had the hearing on the injunction. After the completion of the hearing, I had the opportunity to ask Mr. Warman if he was coming to negotiations on the 20th. The answer I received was a resounding "No."

I don't understand. He'll drive an hour to sit in court and keep his mouth shut, but he won't drive 15 minutes to show 400 workers that he cares about them and wants this strike resolved.

Of course, if anyone saw the sign that was hung outside the hospital last week, they already know that our administrators don't care. "98 shopping days til Christmas." Hey, guys that was a low blow. First, we're not stupid. Christmas is always on December 25. We know how many days it is to Christmas.

Good with the bad

The good news is only one Floyd County school is in the bottom 10 of elementary schools in the state, based on statewide testing. The bad news is a Floyd County school is in the bottom 10 of elementary schools in the state, based on statewide testing.

I suppose it comes down to whether you see the glass as half-full or half-empty. It's not hard to guess that I'm in the latter category. It's the rose-colored glasses, sunny-side-up philosophy, I believe, that keeps this region hovering near the bottom on most any indicator.

I would have felt better, I suppose, if more than one school in the county had scored above 60 on the 140-point scoring system — would have felt better if more than one had scored above 55. Wouldn't you agree it would have been uplifting if one school had achieved half of the total points? Just one 70 would have been oh, so sweet.

What is heartening is that reading scores look halfway decent. I've always believed that if people can read, given the right motivation, they can teach themselves anything. (Although, I have had my doubts occasionally as I've tried to decipher the instructions that come with "some assembly required" items.)

Every school in the county garnered more than 50 points in the reading category, and four scored more than 70 points.

Math, science, and social studies scores turned out better than I expected they would, although we still have a long way to go before we can puff out our

Don't turn your back

by Randell Reno
Staff Writer

As a man raised in a nonviolent family, I have always been appalled to meet so many girls and women who had been abused in some way in their lives.

Husbands, fathers, step-fathers, uncles, and brothers all have encroached upon the innocence of our many, many Appalachian mothers, sisters and friends.

After learning of such violence in my circle of friends, my eyes were opened to see the ones we should be cherishing, instead being destroyed.

September was Sexual Assault Awareness month, but despite the efforts of all who want the madness to end, new cases of abuse have been reported this month to the state police, have entered the courts and, in many cases, have been kept silent.

To the abused, irreparable damage has been inflicted upon the souls that deserved their offenders' love and respect. In trade, the piece of trash dominated and tore down a little more of the spirit of that someone who cared for them and, against all understanding, probably always will.

October is Domestic Violence Awareness month. Purple ribbons will be worn in recognition of the violence that is all too often kept behind closed doors.

Child abuse and spouse abuse are not always hitting. I have a dear friend who, for many years, has taken verbal and emotional abuse, as well as assault, from her loser husband. She has stayed with this lowlife for more than 17 years now. But all she can say is, "My life is terrible."

Another former acquaintance was regularly beaten by a drunkard husband who was himself a victim of abuse.

I can go on forever about friends and acquaintances who have taken the manure from men in their lives for far too long. What we don't see in these wonderful women and children is that they are literally afraid for their lives sometimes.

The same goes for writing. Yet, here, four schools did not rise out of the 30s, and only one mustered a score above 60.

Abysmal can best describe local scores in the categories of arts/humanities and practical living/vocational. Two schools registered scores in the teens in arts and humanities; no school in the county scored as much as 40. Are we teaching nothing in this area? Students should have been able to make those scores just by watching TV.

One school scored in the teens in practical living and vocational skills. Here, at least, three schools scored above 40, but none hit 50.

Of course, these tests don't measure every aspect of the school day or of a child's life. And, as with anything of this nature, there's always a fluke factor.

But, the results should make us all sit up and take notice — parents, teachers, school administrators, businesspersons, taxpayers, and certainly, economic developers.

The state expects every school to attain a score of at least 100 by the year 2014. That means pretty much doubling present scores — and then some. Floyd County schools have a long, long, long way to go. Frankly, there's not much reason for optimism unless we start to experience some sort of revival-type of commitment to having better schools.

And the most vital role is for parents, individually at home and in organizations at school, and not for superficial frenzies, but for nuts-and-bolts, basic education.

Commentary

because if they tell the authorities about the abuse and the abuser finds out, the situation could and probably will get worse.

And oftentimes, telling someone is just a way to cry it out. But the abused nearly always go back. At least all my friends did.

Many victims have had it beaten into their brains that they can't make it alone. Without their so-called men taking care of them, they would surely fail and die, they believe.

What we must do is convince these women that the men couldn't make it without their victims/wives. Because, without this person that they have cruelly forced into slavery, these slugs would have to work when they got home, instead of kicking up their heels and demanding servitude.

Many times these women have married young and know this sad relationship as the only love they have ever experienced.

The worst thing I have ever witnessed in my life was when a free-spirited young friend of mine married one of these asses. She now walks with her head bowed and shoulders stooped, with all her dreams squashed in order that he may have his. The spark of life that was once in her appears only when she can escape his company.

Domestic violence is hidden, but it is not a stranger to Appalachia. In truth, it is an old family friend. Please support those you know in a bad situation like this. Lend an ear.

It may take months or even years, but if you encourage them long enough to leave, maybe they will. You will get frustrated, and you will want to give up, but you may be their only friend. Please don't turn your back on these souls who need that light your encouragement provides.

Next, we're not just thinking about this Christmas. We're thinking about every holiday to come. We're trying to protect our future and your future, too.

You may not support us, but don't take cheap shots at our families. They're the ones who won't have a Christmas this year if this continues to drag on. You guys claim you're the ones who care. If that's what you consider caring, then you'd better take some time off and see if you can find your heart, because you've lost it.

I also don't understand this strike financially. The hospital negotiating team said they wanted to save one million dollar per year on the employee's health insurance—that would be three million for a three-year contract. Now let's do some simple math. Kathy Rubado says the hospital is losing $250,000 per day. They're paying the special security team about $150,000 per week. We've been out 25 days. That's $6.7 million. Wouldn't it have been cheaper to give us our health insurance? You don't have to be an accountant to figure out that three million is cheaper than 6.7 million.

Finally, I want to address Bud Warman and the Board of Directors. I really don't understand your actions. You brought in this special response security team to make sure that we didn't vandalize hospital property. Why would we do that? We are the ones who would end up fixing it when we go back to work. When this is over, we will be the ones who will be back in the hospital, because we know something that you don't: what makes a hospital isn't the buildings, it's the people inside the building.

You, Mr. Warman, had the cream of the crop inside that building until you and the board of directors decided to put us outside that building. But, rest assured, we will be back. It may not be this week; it may not be this month; and, heaven forbid, it may not even be this year, but we will be back. Why? Because WE ARE HIGHLAND'S REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER. The community knows it, we know it, and you know it. Think about it, Mr. Warman.

Fire Prevention Week declared in Floyd

by Randell Reno
Staff Writer

Yesterday officials from the Kentucky Division of Forestry met with the county judge-executive to make a declaration of Fire Prevention Week in Floyd County.

Floyd County Forest Rangers Roy Boggs and Jane Quillen brought before Judge Paul Hunt Thompson a proclamation designating the week of October 3-9 as Fire Prevention Week in the county.

According to Boggs, the purpose of the declaration is to raise the level of awareness of the fire seasons, which occur in the spring and the fall every year.

From October 1 to December 15, the Division of Forestry will be on an added alert to any fires that may be in the six-county area of Floyd, Pike, Knott, Johnson, Lawrence, and Martin.

There have already been several recorded fires across the area throughout the summer, which, according to Boggs, is not a common occurrence.

"To have any fires in the summer is unusual," said Boggs, "most of them have been from arson or from debris burning."

What makes a summer forest fire unusual is the lack of fuel content for a fire, said Boggs. Leaves and pine needles falling to the understorey of the woods become food for the fires, and the highest incidence of fuel matter in the woodlands occurs in the spring and fall when leaves or pine needles have fallen to the ground to dry out.

There have been 531 fires burning more than 13,000 acres of woodlands and grass fields in Kentucky since July 1, as opposed to an average of 50 that occur in a normal year of precipitation.

All of Kentucky's 120 counties have anti-burn laws in effect, but there have been many red flag days already when the potential for forest fires are at highest risk, the forestry official said.

On the days when the conditions of high temperatures, low humidity, and wind are present, the KDOF will have firefighters put on alert, just in case a fire does break out.

The rangers confirmed what most Floyd Countians already know, that the area is grossly under the normal amount of rainfall for the year. The last few days of rain, they said, will be dried from the forest floors in the next couple of days and only sustained rains will make a difference.

Boggs said one of the biggest mistakes that people make concerning forest fires is believing that trees are not damaged in a fire, that only the leaves and underbrush are lost. When people walk through a forest years after the fire occurred no damage can be seen on the surface of the trees, but inside the tree may be a different story.

Boggs said a tree's bark is like skin and when it is burned the tree becomes susceptible to different diseases and insects because the tree's protective barrier has been lost. The inside of the trees often are hollow because of the parasites that invade.

This is why big healthy-looking trees fall over at times and when the tree is cut up it is discovered that the inside of the tree has rotted.

Fire causes, according to the Division of Forestry, include cigarettes being thrown from vehicles, farm machinery, heated exhaust systems in contact with the grass, vehicle backfiring, house fires igniting nearby vegetation, lightning strikes and vegetation against electrical fences. On several occasions, the division has battled fires that traveled underground through dry tree roots and resurfaced on the other side of the control line.

October is the National Fire Prevention Month, and Boggs and Quillen said they hope that Fire Prevention Week will wake the general public up to the need of fire safety to help save the woodlands.

Three ACHS students caught with alcohol

by Randell Reno
Staff Writer

According to the 911 media log at the Kentucky State Police Post in Pikeville, three students were caught in possession of alcohol on the campus of Allen Central High School on Monday.

Principal Patty Maynard would not comment, stating that the incident was a school-related matter. Instead she said that the students were to be punished as outlined in the Floyd County Schools Code of Conduct.

The Code of Conduct states that "no student shall possess, use, be under the influence of, sell, or transfer alcoholic beverages. The violation of this policy shall constitute reason for disciplinary action including suspension or expulsion from school and suspension or dismissal from athletic teams and/or other school-sponsored activities. A first offense shall result in a ten-day suspension. Five of the days may be waived if the family decides to seek an evaluation of the student's alcohol/drug use from a qualified chemical dependency counselor and completes any and all appointments with the coordinator."

A second offense should result in the equivalent of a semester suspension. A third offense should result in immediate suspension and a recommendation for expulsion.

Under the guidelines for possession of alcohol, school authorities are to report the incident to law enforcement and the student should be put into judicial placement.

Two of the students were cited for possession of alcohol and then were released to their parents, according to the log.

Possession of alcohol by a minor is a misdemeanor offense and if pursued those involved in the case can suffer a stiff penalty.

According to Commonwealth's Attorney John Earl Hunt, a person under 21 in possession of an alcoholic beverage can be charged with a class B misdemeanor for a first offense which carries 0-90 days jail time, or, for a second or greater offense, they can be charged with a class A misdemeanor which can carry a penalty of up to 12 months of jail time.

Hunt said how the students got the alcohol will determine if any other charges could be filed. If an 18-year-old student or older sold, gave, bought, or procured it for the students in any way, that person could be facing an Unlawful Transaction with a Minor charge which would be a Class A misdemeanor with a potential penalty of 12 months jail time or a $500 fine.

Hunt said he travels to area high schools explaining to teenagers that once they have turned 18 it's a "whole new world out there." For instance, if charged with Unlawful Transaction with a Minor and convicted, Hunt said it "is death to you on a job application, especially if you are going to deal with kids."

An investigation is being carried out by Trooper Anthony Taubee of the Kentucky State Police.

Court tackles employee matters, restoration of old bank building

Employee matters and the restoration of the old Salyersville National Bank building dominated the agenda for a recent meeting of the Magoffin County Fiscal Court.

Meeting in regular session, fiscal court members approved salary adjustments for two deputy jailers and a deputy coroner and reclassified several road and sanitation employees.

The court also agreed to two change orders presented by Mark Isbell, project manager of the bank building restoration project.

The change orders represented new additions of the restoration contract to include lead paint abatement, regrading of the back lot, using a different floor covering, and adding custom copper in certain areas instead of aluminum.

When finished the building will serve as a community center-type hall with a meeting room and other available activity rooms. The restoration is expected to cost $500,000. — The Salyersville Independent

Little League hosts Fun Day to raise funds

Magoffin County Little League officials have announced activities that will be included in a "fun day at the park" the league will be sponsoring Saturday, October 9.

Scheduled activities include a midgetball tournament, which will be a co-ed event played with a 16-inch softball, a three-on-three basketball tournament, a doubles horse shoe pitching tournament, free throw contest, and hitting competition for four different age groups.

City approves $9,000 for improvements at local park

Pikeville city commissioners responded favorably Monday night to two recreation proposals which supporters said could ultimately boost tourism numbers.

Commissioners voted unanimously to give $9,000 to the YMCA to fund ramp resurfacing at that group's skate park and also moved forward with a request to construct a cross-country race course at Bob Amos Park. — Appalachian News-Express

Hall of Justice beefs up security

People attempting to enter the Pike County Hall of Justice can expect to be subjected to several new procedures designed to ensure tighter security inside the building.

As a result of the increased potential for violence and threats to the safety of the judges, jurors, court personnel and the public, the Pike County Sheriff's Office, and the Administrative Office of the Courts have created a new security procedures designed to boost the safety of those who work inside the building or visit it.

Effective immediately, the riverfill doors to the building will remain locked at all times. Entrances and exits will be limited to the first-floor access doors.

All persons entering the building must pass through a metal detector and all briefcases, packages, purses and other objects will be x-rayed. — Appalachian News-Express

Hay truck kills man in Huddy

The death of a Shelbiana man that was originally thought to have been the result of a heart attack is now being attributed to the injuries he sustained in an accident recently on Coburn Mountain.

Police say Shelbiana residents Roger L. Damron and his brother Kennis Damron were alongside US 199 loading hay into the back of a Chevy S-10 when the accident occurred.

At some point during the loading of the hay, police said, Kennis Damron subsequently got into the truck and pulled it forward a few feet. Damron told police that upon leaving the truck, he didn't initially see his brother. He said it wasn't until a few moments later that he saw his brother's body underneath the truck.

A preliminary examination at the hospital indicated Damron had died from a heart attack. However, subsequent autopsy results showed the victim had instead died from injuries he received as the result of being run over by the truck, police said. — Appalachian News-Express

Gloom, despair, and agony on me

A divorced mother of two says she is being victimized by a vandal she thinks is targeting her son.

"So far, my dog has been shot; my tires were cut; my house was broken into; and my car was stolen and then totaled," Virginia Patrick said Friday.

"The thing that is the most disturbing about this is that whoever broke into my home stole things that belonged to my son and left things that any normal thief would have taken for money," she said. — The Mountain Citizen

Last year, students' progress was kept up to date on a weekly basis and football players who were in danger of failing a class were warned to get their grades back up or be suspended from sports.

Due to the change in policy, students were no longer informed on a weekly basis and found out their grades only when reports were released, too late for them to bring them back up.

'County not for sale'

A push to merge Kentucky counties is on once again, but Martin County Judge-Executive Dr. Lon E. Lafferty is not singing its praises. The issue is being discussed this week in southeastern Kentucky by the Task Force on Local Government Organization.

Even though the first 10 counties that decide to merge have been offered a $3 million reward, Lafferty bluntly proclaimed: "Martin County is not for sale." — The Mountain Citizen

Parents give middle school council an 'F'

Parents and players filed into the Warfield Middle School Site-Based Decision Making Council meeting one by one, each dropping equipment, football pads and helmets on the floor.

There will be no district tournament, no Pumpkin Bowl with inter-county rival Inez and no reward for the efforts of coaches and players who started grueling practice on August 2.

Parents questioned council members regarding a school policy that was changed for participation in extracurricular activities, including football. Parents said they

County begins filing lawsuits to collect taxes

In an attempt to collect some of the thousands of dollars in delinquent taxes owed to the county, the Lawrence County Fiscal Court has begun filing lawsuits against residents with the most outstanding bills.

Lawrence County Attorney Kimberly Compton said about 10 lawsuits have already been filed in Lawrence Circuit Court, and more are forthcoming.

"The sheriff's goal is to get at least 95 percent of the people to pay their property taxes on time," Compton said. "Then, the list of delinquent taxes is turned over to our office so we can try to collect."

Some of the suits have already been dismissed after payment was made. — The Big Sandy News

Coal trucks have once again been pushed into the spotlight as the Louisa City Council heard complaints earlier this month about trucks exceeding the weight limit crossing Madison Street in downtown Louisa.

Audience members said most coal trucks exceeded the maximum weight limit allowed on the Louisa-Fort Gay bridge.

One person who attended the meeting said he saw a coal truck almost hit a school bus, and is afraid such an accident may happen in the future.

Louisa City Attorney Eldred "Bud" Adams Jr. said since Madison is a state route, there was little the city could do except enforce the speed limit. — The Big Sandy News

Council adopts leash law for dogs in city limits

Once the paperwork is complete, no farm animals will be allowed inside the city limits and dogs must be on a leash when in public, the Louisa City Council decided earlier this month.

Louisa City Attorney Elred "Bud" Adams Jr. said at the September meeting that he thought the city had the authority to prohibit any type of farm animal.

Earlier this year, city officials received complaints about a resident keeping roosters at a home in town. After researching old ordinances, Louisa Police Chief Kevin T. Adkins said he couldn't find anything to prohibit roosters specifically.

Crash at festival late on Saturday termed 'near miss'

A Harrison County man was lodged in the Rowan County Jail following a potentially tragic traffic incident about 11:45 p.m. Saturday near the Sorghum Festival's big top tent on Main Street in West Liberty.

The Kentucky State Police at Morehead identified the man as Jerry D. Haley, 52, of Cynthiana.

According to witnesses, only a collision with another vehicle prevented Haley's car from plowing into a group of bystanders and through the end of the big top tent. — Licking Valley Courier

Women trapped in car last week dies in hospital

Garnett Whitley Madden, 58, of Cook Branch Road, Campton, died early last Friday morning at the University of Kentucky Hospital of injuries she received when her car ran off the road and struck a concrete culvert in West Liberty two days earlier.

According to witnesses, Madden's car "just veered off the highway, traveled along the right side of the road and hit the culvert." The vehicle overturned and landed on its top, trapping Madden inside in about 12 to 18 inches of water.

After she was freed, Madden was rushed to Morgan County ARH. She was transferred by helicopter to the University of Kentucky Hospital.

Mrs. Madden, whose two sons, Duke Whitley, 25, and Timothy Whitley, 35, were killed in an automobile accident at Lee City in August, reportedly was on her way to see a doctor in West Liberty when the accident occurred. — Licking Valley Courier

Sex abuse conviction is tossed by appellate court

A three-judge appellate court panel has ordered a new trial for a Johnson County man convicted in January 1998 of sexually abusing a minor.

The state Court of Appeals justices ruled on September 10 that a new trial must be held for Steven Francis, who had been sentenced to five years by a Johnson County Circuit Court jury following his January 28, 1998 conviction for sexual abuse of a minor.

The appellate court ordered a new trial after deciding that the lower court improperly permitted hearsay evidence to be offered to the jury by an investigating officer.

Specifically, the court ruled that the lower court erred when it allowed the investigative officer to repeat charges made by the four-year-old victim and to offer his opinion, in response to a question from the prosecutor, that the child had not been coached. — The Paintsville Herald

Flat Gap man is arrested on charge of indecent exposure

A Johnson County man was arrested recently for allegedly exposing himself near the Paintsville

Recreation Center.

Phillip L. Conley, 51, of Flat Gap was arrested by Paintsville police officer John Doug Miller after he found Conley in the third base dugout at the Paintsville Little League field.

Miller said in court papers that a "witness stated he exposed himself while she was walking on the track" at the recreation center. Miller said children from a day care center were also present when the incident occurred. — The Paintsville Herald

Prosecutor wins, sets landmark for DUI

Kentucky's Supreme Court issued a ruling last week on an appeal brought by the Johnson County Attorney's Office that will set legal precedent in the state.

The high court ruling, issued September 23, arises from a Johnson County District Court case involving the trial of a suspected drunk driver who had refused a breathalyzer test at the Big Sandy Regional Detention Center, requesting instead that he be administered a blood test at a local hospital. Portable breath tests administered at the scene of arrest had failed.

The request was refused by the arresting officer, and the suspect — Jerry Minix — was charged with refusing the sobriety test. — The Paintsville Herald

As you make your voting decision for the office of Floyd County Family Court Judge, which will appear on the November Ballot as Circuit Judge, 3rd Division, I would ask you to honor me with your vote and support.

Family Court—The Problems

Over the eleven years I have practiced in Floyd County, I have become aware of problems with the way justice is administered in Domestic Relations cases. These are:

- Court costs for Divorce Cases are too high.
- Divorce cases take too long to be heard in the Court.
- Emergency Protective Orders are issued too often.
- Domestic Violence Orders do not offer enough protection to victims of serious abuse.
- Children are not protected sufficiently in the juvenile Court.

My Solutions to the Problems

I offer the following specific solutions to these problems:

- I pledge to hear all cases personally, and to abolish the office of Domestic Relations Commissioner. This will lower Court Costs on all contested Divorce Cases, between $15.00 and several hundred dollars, depending on the case.
- I pledge to hear all Divorce cases within 60 days from the date the Petition is filed, if there are no children involved, and within 90 days, if there are children involved.
- I pledge to grant both parties a full hearing on all Emergency Protective Order Petitions, and to grant only those Petitions where there are legal grounds to do so.
- I pledge to protect, to the fullest extent of law, victims of Domestic Violence, especially in cases involving physical abuse.
- I pledge to take the time to hear all abuse and neglect cases, and to protect our children who are in danger.

I have 12 1/2 years of experience in Domestic cases, and in that time I have represented over 500 people in such cases. I know the problems, and I will work as hard as I can to solve them. This is a full time job, and requires a full time Judge.

Remember, if all we get with this Court is a new Judge doing things the same old ways, Floyd County has gained nothing!

HIGHLANDS

REGIONAL

The Medical Center of Eastern KentuckySM

A Subsidiary of Consolidated Health Systems

On September 2, 1999, SEIU/District 1199 called a strike against Highlands Regional Medical Center. The strike has gone on for three weeks. This strike was unnecessary and is depriving the residents of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, and Martin Counties of essential healthcare services.

As a result of the Union's actions the average Highlands employee has lost $1600 in wages. They have lost their health and other employee benefits. It will take employees three years to make up these losses.

The Union would like you to believe it is fighting for better wages and benefits for the employees of Highlands Regional Medical Center.

MAKE NO MISTAKE, THIS STRIKE IS ABOUT:

- Forcing all the registered nurses at the Medical Center to join the Union so their dues can go out of state.
- Forcing management to agree to simultaneous contract dates.

The Union says it is fighting for a fair contract. The truth is Highlands Regional Medical Center pays good wages and has an excellent benefit program. On average a:

- ◆ Full-time registered nurse earns $35,672 per year and receives an additional $11,415 worth of employee benefits.
- ◆ Full-time licensed practical nurse earns $27,081 per year and receives an additional $8,665 worth of employee benefits.
- ◆ Full-time housekeeper earns $19,219 per year and receives an additional $6,150 worth of employee benefits.
- ◆ Full-time maintenance employee earns $24,980 per year and receives an additional $7,994 worth employee benefits.
- ◆ Full-time x-ray technician earns $34,819 per year and receives an additional $11,142 worth of employee benefits.

Full-time employees at Highlands Regional Medical Center, in addition to receiving competitive wages, receive the following employee benefits: health and dental insurance, life insurance, vacation days, 12 sick days per year, and a retirement program.

Our new contract proposal calls for a total 3% increase in wages with most employee benefits improved or maintained. Unfair? What is unfair is the Columbus, Ohio based union forcing hardworking people to lose income over a needless strike.

58th District golf...

Kidd, Martin bring excitement to 58th District golf outing

Prestonsburg repeats as district champions

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

What a way to finish off one of the better 58th District golf meets that have been held for several years. The district golf outing was held at the Jenny Wiley Golf Course this past week and, as expected, the Prestonsburg Blackcats won their fifth consecutive team title.

But the real battle was between two very good friends, Ryan Martin from Prestonsburg and Josh Kidd of Betsy Layne.

The two were tied for the individual medalist when they completed the 18 holes of golf, forcing a three-hole playoff. Both shot an even-par-68 for the two days of golf and were still tied when they reached the third hole in their playoff.

Kidd made par on the third hole of the playoff, but Martin would have to make his chip shot for the par, so he conceded the match without trying the shot.

Both golfers were state participants last year as they battled each other in '98. Last year both were named co-golfers of the year in Floyd County.

"I had been fighting the shanks all day," said Martin of the match. "Josh was just one stroke better than me."

Kidd had shot a 4-under-par 30 to set a new high school record in Floyd County. Former Prestonsburg standout Brett James had shot a 31 for the record.

"I don't think anyone has shot a 30 before," said Betsy Layne coach Keith Henry. "Josh has had a great season and has not lost a match this year."

The three-hole playoff was the highlight of the tournament, according to Henry.

"In the three-hole playoff, it went to dark," said Henry. "It was fun to watch two good high school kids under pressure."

Prestonsburg finished with a 286 for the district tournament with Betsy Layne the runner-up at 304. Allen Central placed third with a 315 and South Floyd was fourth with 374. Martin shot a 68 for Prestonsburg, 35 in the first round and 33 in round two, with Zach Collins finishing with a 70. Michael Stephens shot a 72 and Josh Slone had a 76 for the top four individual scores.

Of course, Kidd also finished with a 68 for Betsy Layne, shooting a 34 on each round. Justin Bartley had a 76 and Chad Conway shot a 79. Robbie Johnson (81) and Brad Bevens (88) rounded out the top five for the Bobcats.

Larry Mullins had a 4-over-par 38 in each of the two rounds for a 76 for Allen Central. Dwight McKinney and Brett Whitaker shot a 78, Jeremy Hayes finished with a 83 and Jason Holbrook had an 86.

Kevin McKinney led South Floyd with an 85, shooting a 44 in the first round and improving to a 41 in round two. Byron Stewart was one stroke behind at 86. Heath Hall and Byron Hall rounded out the top four for the Raiders.

GIRLS' DISTRICT GOLF

The Allen Central girls won the district girls' title with Mary Ann Mullins and Jennifer Risner sharing the individual medalist title. Both shot an 84. Darkness set, not allowing a playoff by the time all scores were turned in.

Allen Central, the only school with enough golfers to field a team, shot a 399. Risner and Mullins had an 84, while Angie Boyd shot a 110 and Amanda Mills finished with a 121.

Heather Stumbo shot a 128 for South Floyd while Ashley Reynolds finished with a 131. For Betsy Layne, Candy Branham had a 109 with teammate Desiree Tackett shooting a 117. Heather Ousley and Rachel Vaughn played for Prestonsburg.

SEPARATE MATCH

In a separate nine hole match at the Jenny Wiley Golf Course, South Floyd won over the Piarist School, 180 to 203. Stewart shot a 6-over-par 40 to lead the Raiders. McKinney finished with a 41 and Heath Hall shot a 47. Shane Allen finished with a 47 and Byron Hall shot a 53.

For the Piarist School, Brian Yates led the Knights with a 49, and Bill Jones was one stroke behind with a 50. Robert Hall finished with a 51, Brett Hall, 53 and George Hall a 55.

Ryan Martin

Regional Golf Tournament...

Martin named medalist in regional golf tournament

Martin and Kidd advance to state meet; a county first

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

When you think it couldn't get any better than the way the 58th District Golf Tournament ended up last week, along comes the regional golf match at Johns Creek's Public Links Golf Course.

Prestonsburg's Ryan Martin was the medalist champion, one stroke better than Pikeville's Dustin Jones. Martin shot a 1-under-par-70 to Jones' 71.

Walters and Betsy Layne's Josh Kidd. Walters finished with a 77, while Kidd shot a 79.

Both Martin and Kidd, along with Walters, will advance to the state meet at Gibson Bay Golf Course in Richmond.

"Both of them will go to the state, and I believe that is the first time it has ever happened, two from Floyd County going in consecutive years," said Betsy Layne coach Keith Henry.

Johnson Central will represent the region as a team in the state meet October 7-8. The Eagles finished first with a score of 294. Paintsville placed second (309) and Prestonsburg third (314). Rounding out the top six teams were Pikeville, Hazard and Betsy Layne. Allen Central placed eighth overall.

Dustin Jones shot an even-par 71 to lead Johnson Central to a first-place finish. Chad Carroll finished with a 72, Jason Vanhooze, 75 and

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The South Floyd Middle School Raiders hosted the Betsy Layne Elementary Bobcats this past Tuesday night in a special homecoming game, but the Raiders found that Betsy Layne came to play the game of football.

Betsy Layne put a scare in the Raiders and dented their unblemished record when the two met on the gridiron. When the final horn sounded, it was South Floyd standing with a 39-31 win over a good Betsy Layne team — and the win wasn't an easy one.

South Floyd running back Joe Bakay was a one-man gang for the Raiders. He rushed for 364 yards, scored five touchdowns and one extra point in the win. He had scoring runs of 53, 52, 37, 49 and 28 yards.

Jordan Johnson rushed for 31 yards on five carries. Quarterback Landon Hall picked up 17 yards on seven attempts. Hall was sacked once for a 4-yard loss.

Betsy Layne quarterback Tracy "Small" Frye was awesome behind center and accounted for most of the Bobcats' yards. He completed four of 12 passes for 130 yards, tossing for two touchdowns. Ben Akers was on the receiving of three catches for 127 yards and two touchdown catches.

Betsy Layne had a total of 224 yards, rushing for 94. Jarrell led the running game for Betsy Layne with 94 yards on five carries. He scored twice on runs of 44 and 45 yards.

On the opening kickoff, Frye was intercepted on the first play from scrimmage. It took South Floyd only one play to strike paydirt when Bakay broke tackle and raced 53 yards for the score and a 6-0 Raider lead.

But it did not take Betsy Layne long to get a 7-6 lead. On a first-down play, Frye connected with Akers for a 59-yard scoring pass with 7:19 left in the first quarter. He then ran the extra point.

South Floyd had good ball movement and moved to the Betsy Layne 38 where Bakay, after an 8-yard pickup, was hit hard and Frye recovered the Bakay fumble.

Betsy Layne took a 13-6 lead when Jarrell went up the middle of the South Floyd line, broke to his right and raced 44 yards for the score with 5:05 to play.

It took five plays for the Raiders to even the game again. Bakay had three runs of 5-yards each and then, with a good block from Corey Hall, galloped 52 yards with 2:13 to play. He then added the extra point to tie the game at 13.

South Floyd had control of the football entering the second peri-

Prestonsburg defense too much for Rebels to handle

by Karen Joseph
Sports Writer

It was a long night for the young Rebels of Allen Central Tuesday night as they took on the Blackcats of Prestonsburg. Everything seemed to go the Blackcats' way.

Allen Central had some good runs, but the defense of the Blackcats was too much for the Rebels to overcome. Chris Walker, Elsie Webb and Joe Blackburn had an awesome night in blocking and tackling for the Blackcats.

Walker had six tackles, including one quarterback sack. Webb had four tackles and Blackburn had seven for the Blackcats.

Michael Morrison and Brandon Hurt both did an excellent job in carrying the ball for the Blackcats.

Morrison rushed mostly up the middle for sixty yards, and Brandon Hurt rushed for forty-five yards. The Rebels played a hard game, but it was the Blackcats coming away with the win 26-0.

The Rebels received the ball to start the game, but on the fourth down the Rebels had to punt the ball to the Blackcats. The offense of the Blackcats did a tremendous job of moving the ball. The Blackcats had three first downs on this drive.

Michael Morrison carried the ball five times for a total of 25 yards before scoring the first touchdown for the Blackcats. Morrison also ran the ball in for the extra point, giving the Blackcats a 7-0 lead with 3:41 remaining in the first quarter.

Allen Central again tried to get something going on the next drive but on the fourth down Prestonsburg took over on downs. But on the next possession by the Blackcats, the defense of Allen Central held the Blackcats to four downs and at the end of the first quarter the score was 7-0 in favor of the Blackcats.

At the beginning of the second quarter, things seemed to be looking up for the Rebels, but on the second down quarterback Austin Francis attempted a pass to Cody Harlow to have it intercepted by Jessie Chaffin for the Blackcats. And two downs later the Blackcats scored on a quarterback keeper by Trevor Compton. Brandon Hurt ran the ball in for the extra point, making the score 14-0 in favor of the Blackcats.

The Rebels got the ball back with 6:56 to go in the half and were hoping for their first score, but again the defense of the Blackcats kept the Rebels from scoring and the Rebels punted the ball to have the ball blocked by the Blackcats, giving them the ball on Allen Central's 34 yard line.

After three plays the Blackcats scored yet another touchdown when Trevor Compton handed the ball off to Brandon Hurt. Hurt ran the ball 20 yards for a touchdown, giving the Blackcats a 20-0 lead with 3:03 remaining in the first half. The Rebels tried to get something going again, but the defense of the Blackcats again held the Rebels and the first half ended without the Rebels scoring.

The Blackcats received the ball to start the second half and things again seemed to be looking better for the Rebels. The Blackcats fumbled the ball twice on the opening series. Michael Morrison fumbled but recovered and then Jessie Chaffin fumbled and Austin Francis recovered for the Rebels.

The momentum didn't go in Allen

Central's favor for long. After four downs they had to punt the ball back to the Blackcats. Joe Blackburn received the punt to run the ball 25 yards to score another touchdown for the Blackcats. The extra point attempt was unsuccessful and the Blackcats led 26-0 at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Rebels had a good run. They had two first downs but again on an attempted pass by Austin Francis, Joe Blackburn of Prestonsburg intercepted the ball giving Prestonsburg the ball again.

This Rebel team is a very young team and they are low on numbers, but Coach Roy Harlow does a wonderful job coaching these young men and you can watch for this Allen Central team in a couple of years.

Allen Central will host the Bobcats from Betsy Layne on Tuesday, October 5. The Blackcats will travel to Allen to take on the Eagles Tuesday.

Josh Kidd was an 8-over-par 79 for the Bobcats, followed by Justin Bartley and Robbie Johnson. Brad Bevins finished with a 114.

Piarist School competes in 3 Rivers Conference Cross-Country

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Piarist School, located at Martin, competed in the women's 3 Rivers Conference Cross-Country meet earlier this week with freshman Sarah Tan taking 11th place overall with a time of 30:51. There were 32 runners in the women's meet.

Cordia's Amelia Cody took first at the season-ending meet with a time of 26:01.

Also competing for the Piarist School were Tai England, Nora Traum and Tabitha Nunnemaker. England posted a time of 31:51 for 16th place overall. Traum placed 26th at 36:34 and Nunnemaker ran in 29th place at 37:55.

Sophomore Kari Ross, the school's top runner, did not compete because of an injury.

The Piarist School will host its annual home cross-country meet Tuesday, October 5, beginning at 5:30 with a middle school race. The varsity will run at approximately 6 p.m.

Earlier this month, in a 3 Rivers Conference meet, the Piarist School brought home the third place trophy.

Tan finished 14th overall in the race with a time of 26:28. Ross placed 19th at 28:39 and England ran in 23rd place with a time 29:46. Juniors Traum and Nunnemaker placed 26th and 30th, respectively.

Oneida Baptist's Amanda Tavis captured first place with a time of 21:48.

Pioneer 3K run scheduled for October 9

The Jenny Wiley Pioneer 3K Run or 1.9-mile race, will be on Saturday, October 9 with registration held from 8-8:45 a.m.

The run will begin at the old Prestonsburg Tourism Center, located at the intersection of North Lake Drive and KY 114, with a starting time of 9 a.m.

Registration fee is $15. Each participant will receive a race T-shirt and trophies will awarded in 10 male and female age groups including wheelchair and overall male/female winners.

The course will be from the old tourism center and will turn around at the Country Boy Farm Supply and then participants will head back to the finish line at the tourism center.

od but lost the ball at their own 48-yard line on a fumble.

Betsy Layne could find no running room against the front line of the Raiders and faced a three and out.

With 4:36 left in the half, South Floyd went in front 20-13 on a 37-yard run by Bakay. The conversion pass from Hall to Brian Meade completed the scoring.

Betsy Layne wasn't ready to concede anything to the Raiders and as not intimidated by the bigger team. After Frye was sacked for a 4-yard loss, he stood behind center, took the snap and hit Akers with a 56-yard scoring pass to make it a 21-19 game.

South Floyd had the ball moving to the Betsy Layne 11-yard line before time expired for the first half.

The Raiders came back out at the onset of the third quarter hoping to extend their lead. With 2:49 left in the third period, South Floyd did just that on a 6-yard run by Adam Tackett and on the conversion pass from Hall to Ervin Vance to make it a 27-19 game.

But, as before, Betsy Layne did not know the word quit. On the kickoff, Frye picked the ball up, broke to the right side of the field and went untouched to the end zone, a run that covered 62 yards, and a 27-25 game.

Just like it was written in the script, South Floyd countered with a successful drive of their own as Bakay went 49 yards for his fourth touchdown of the game and a 33-25 lead with 24 seconds left to play. The score stood up till the end of the period as South Floyd had control of the ball going into the final stanza.

Hall put the ball in the hands of Bakay on five consecutive carries and cumulated on a 28-yard run by the quick back with 5:13 to play and a 39-25 lead.

Coach Dwight Newsome's club said no to any concession of the game and put together a strong drive. Frye was hit hard by Chester Hunter and had to leave the game. Jarrell went behind center for one play, taking the handoff and running 45 yards for the touchdown, his second of the game, and a 39-31 game.

After a three and out for South Floyd on a crucial possession, Betsy Layne had the ball and a chance to tie, but Adam Tackett came up with a big interception of a Frye pass with 57 seconds left. Hall then ran the clock out.

The win kept South Floyd undefeated as they will face the Inez Indians next Thursday evening at Brackett Field. Betsy Layne will meet Allen Central on the road Monday night.

FROM LAST WEEK

WINSTON CUP SERIES

What a battle of wits. What a confrontation between old and new. What a crossroads skirmish between NASCAR Present and NASCAR Future.

Mark Martin, the 40-year-old Ford driver from Batesville, Ark., held off the typically fiery charge of 28-year-old sensation Tony Stewart in the MBNA Gold 400 at Dover. The contrast between the two stars — one a mainstay, the other emerging — could not have been greater.

Told that Stewart had complained about his tires, Martin said, "I think if Tony hangs around this thing for a while, he'll have (tire problems) again. Some days that just happens. It's happened to me probably 30 times, but I've been around for a dozen years. Some days just go that way."

In other words, time to take your medicine, kid.

BUSCH GRAND NATIONAL

Nineteen-year-old Casey Atwood staked his place among the sport's future stars with his second victory. Atwood outdueled fellow Chevy driver Randy LaJoie to capture the MBNA Gold 200, also at Dover Downs International Speedway.

CRAFTSMAN TRUCKS

Ford driver Greg Biffle held off Jack Sprague for an apparent ninth victory of the season, but a post-race inspection revealed an unapproved intake manifold, so as this page went to press, Biffle's victory was not official.

FEUD OF THE WEEK

Dave Marcis vs. Chad Little

A tap from Little's Ford sent Marcis' Chevrolet into the wall. The 58-year-old veteran cursed Little and said, "I don't think he can see." Little, who finished seventh, said, "That was unfortunate, and I hate (that) it happened to him."

NASCAR This Week's Monte Dutton gives his opinion:

"Little admitted it was his fault, and the incident was surely not intentional. These things happen every week, although that doesn't make Marcis feel any better."

FROM THE ARCHIVES

■ Talladega Superspeedway probably boasts more upsets than any other NASCAR track. Since the track opened in 1969, races have been won by Richard Brickhouse, James Hylton, Dick Brooks, Lennie Pond, Ron Bouchard, Bobby Hillin and Phil Parsons. Out of this group, only Hylton won another Winston DOVER, Del. — Ted Musgrave is out; Wally Dallenbach Jr. is in, effective next year in the No. 75 Ford jointly owned by Butch Mock and Tennessee businessman Darwin Oordt.

Both drivers confirmed the switch. Musgrave declined to speculate what future prospects he might have. But it is possible, according to a team source, that Oordt might retain Musgrave in a second car, provided a sponsor can be found.

Dallenbach's name has been bounced around in relation to virtually every available vacancy since his contract was not renewed at Hendrick Motorsports.

The team, to be renamed Galaxy Motorsports, will have Jimmy Johnson, well known for his past service at Hendrick, as general manager.

"Jimmy Johnson is the reason why I was interested," said Dallenbach. "We're going to use Robert Yates engines, but other than that, everything is going to be done in-house. I've been given the opportunity to bring in people that I wanted to work with, and because of that, I think this is going to be a unique opportunity for me."

NEMECHK TO PETREE: Joe Nemechek is the front-runner to replace Ken Schrader at Andy Petree Racing. Schrader's departure from Petree's No. 33 Chevrolet was announced two weeks ago, and Nemechek's victory last week at New Hampshire cemented his position as Schrader's likely replacement.

Expect an official announcement soon.

STILL TIME FOR A CHANGE: Felix Sabates is, of course, overjoyed at Joe Nemechek's recent victory at New Hampshire, but not so ebullient that he will attempt to woo

Michael Waltrip

John Clark/NASCAR This Week

Michael Waltrip has yet to win in 421 Winston Cup starts.

By Monte Dutton
NASCAR This Week

Michael Waltrip, whose older brother, Darrell, has won 84 Winston Cup races, still seeks his first win in the country's most prominent motorsports series.

Waltrip won The Winston all-star race in 1996 at what was then known as Charlotte Motor Speedway. That victory, coming in a race largely limited to drivers with previous wins, was one of the more improbable upsets in the history of stock car racing. Waltrip qualified for the event by finishing fifth in the preliminary race, the Winston Open.

No less an authority than Dale Earnhardt is baffled by Waltrip's inability to win a point race.

"I've always thought Michael Waltrip was a fine driver," said the seven-time champion. "Why he's never won is a mystery to me."

WAS JOE NEMECHK'S NEW HAMPSHIRE VICTORY ENCOURAGING FOR YOU? "That was one of the biggest upsets ever in Winston Cup racing. Joe Nemechek has been good at times, but he has lacked the consistency to put him on top of the list of people that might break through and win a race. That's what made Joe's win surprising and special. It's not because of a lack of ability on Joe's part or on the part of his team, but just because of where they have been. They broke out and broke out big. That excites me as a driver, and it's just good for our sport."

IF JOE NEMECHK CAN DO IT, CAN YOU? "I really feel like this Philips team has the capability to do what Joe did. It's kind of hard sometimes to get everybody to buy into that, but I feel that way. I know it didn't matter whether or not anyone was buying into it with Joe when

Letters From Our Readers

Dear NASCAR This Week,

I have often heard some of the race announcers say the drivers' feet become very hot during a few of the race events. Why is there not an insulated pad placed on the floor of the car under the drivers' feet?

Why don't any of the teams use four lugs on the wheels instead of five? It would make for a faster pit stop.

Is it possible to get a copy of the rule book?

Lee Waldon
Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.

In many cases, there are insulated pads. In fact, there are many ways teams attempt to protect the drivers' feet: insulation beneath the floorboard, heat-protective footwear, etc. But these methods do not always work, particularly when, for whatever reason, the heat is excessive.

NASCAR must approve all equipment and will not allow teams to use wheels with four lugs.

To be issued a rule book, one must be a dues-paying member of NASCAR.

Dear NASCAR This Week,

"NASCAR family sticking together"? Interviews after the Bristol race were more like a school of barracudas closing in for the kill.

The media should use some restraint and wait before sticking a microphone in people's faces so quickly. Things are said in the heat of the moment that are better left unsaid. Hopefully some of these people are sorry and will apologize to (Dale) Earnhardt.

Ruth A. Crume
Elkhart, Ind.

In the media's defense, nighttime races put reporters under tremendous deadline pressure. Many people who criticize the media for being overzealous would also criticize if the information in question was not printed. You are right that people make statements "in the heat of the moment" they later regret, but just because a microphone is in someone's face doesn't mean that person has to say anything.

CREW OF THE WEEK

■ A bad set of tires and a resulting unscheduled pit stop left Tony Stewart three laps down in Sunday's MBNA Gold 400. The driver was, by his own admission, at wit's end. Thankfully, that was not the case for his pit crew, headed by Greg Zipadelli. Stewart wound up second, for the second week in a row.
