Middle Creek fire dept. awarded grant for truck

Middle Creek Volunteer Fire Department has been chosen to receive a $100,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The money will be used to purchase a new truck with mounted firefight-

USDA Rural Development State Director Thomas G. Fern made the announcement, saying the grant would have an immediate impact on public safety in the community.

"This community facilities grant will benefit approximately 2,500 citizens in the Floyd County area with improved fire protection," Fern said. "The project supports the Clinton-Gore administration's commitment to increasing the quality and availability of public safety in rural areas across the country.

"USDA's Community Facilities program helps rural communities keep pace with the safety needs of our escalating populations in rural areas," Fern continued. "With lower populations and tax bases than urban areas, rural areas rely on programs such as this to provide essential public safety to enhance the quality of life for all rural residents."

Funds from the program are used to construct, enlarge or improve community facilities for health care, public safety and public services.

Turning the earth...

With a number of people enlisted to break ground, site development for the new Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center got a good start yesterday. The building, at the intersection of KY 1428 and 3, will also house a welcome center.

by PAM SHINGLER SENIOR EDITOR

The construction of a welcome center - with a sampling of the area's "treasures" inside - is about to be underway at Lancer.

Local and state dignitaries broke ground yesterday for the proposed Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center, which will double as an information center for persons visiting Jenny Wiley State

The state donated the land at the intersection of KY 1428 and KY 3 and the legislature appropriated $400,000 for the facility, said Prestonsburg Mayor Jerry Fannin.

The single-story, brick veneer building will have a little more than 3,700 square feet, cathedral ceilings in the main room, and "lots of windows," according to architect Randy Burchett.

"We would like to start construction within four to five him several years ago that "there said.

to get it under roof before any thought of bad weather.'

Burchett added that he "wants this to be the crown jewel of senior centers in eastern Kentucky.'

Fannin said the new building will allow the adult day care center at the present facility in the city's Archer Park to be expanded. He also said the kitchen in the new center will be bigger.

"We hope to have one of the nicest facilities in the state," Fannin told the crowd in attendance at the groundbreaking ceremony, many of them regular patrons of the present center.

State Rep. Greg Stumbo took the opportunity to put in some good words for his colleague, state Sen. Benny Ray Bailey, who is facing Democratic opposition for his legislative seat.

weeks," Burchett said, "We want ought to be a senior center in every part of the county." Stumbo said this event was at least the fifth such ceremony he had been to around the county.

"Senior centers have been a pet project of mine for 12 years," Bailey said, pointing out that Floyd County has more senior centers per capita than any other county, including Jefferson and Fayette

Bailey added that the welcome center in the front of the new structure will "set the tone for people coming into the park."

Former Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, who is now the state's secretary for tourism development, represented state officials at the groundbreaking. She had high praise for Gov. Paul Patton, who, she said, has brought funding and attention to this part of the state.

Man pleads guilty to sex abuse of 12-year-old

by RANDELL RENO STAFF WRITER

An alleged sex offender from Auxier pleaded guilty in Floyd District Court Thursday to having sex with a preteen girl.

Willis Spears Jr., 34, was arrested in August and charged with second-degree sex abuse for the alleged penetration of a 12-year-old girl in April Willis said the girl looked much older during his confession to the crime, said Assistant County Attorney Jimmy Marcum.

Willis was given a one-year sentence for his guilty plea. He will begin serving four months of that sentence Monday, May 15, when he surrenders himself to local officials.

After the four months is complete, he will be placed on supervised probation for the remaining eight months. Willis was also ordered to receive sex abuse counseling and to have no further contact with

New budget benefits state park system

FRANKFORT — The recent General Assembly session produced a budget that will substantially benefit the Kentucky State Park System, Commissioner Kenny Rapier said recently.

Several projects already in the works were reauthorized for a new July 1. They include new golf courses at Yatesville Lake State Park (costing $6 million), Dale Hollow Lake State Resort Park ($6 million), Mineral Mound SP ($5 million), Grayson Lake SP ($5 million) and Kincaid Lake SP ($3 mil-

TRANSPORTATION SERVICES -ROADS FOR OUR PEOPLE

East Kentucky, historically, has been "left out" of modern highway systems that were planned in Washington and Frankfort. Even the great Conestoga wagon trails westward went to the north and south of central appalachia.

The importance of the Appalachian region to America was not unnoticed. As a matter of fact, Henry Knox, Secretary of War under President George Washington, urged a major road building program through Appalachia in the 1790's. In 1966, some 170 years later, Congress got around to passing the Appalachian Development Act to begin the Appalachian Road Program.

We've come a long way since then. In the early 1960's Governor Bert Combs led the way with the construction of the Mountain Parkway; in the late 1970's, Route 80, to link the Big Sandy and KY River Valleys, was begun. Route 15 was constructed in the 1960's to link the KY River Area to the Bluegrass. Route 23 now is four laned from Ohio to Virginia.

Route 680 now links Left Beaver Creek with new Route 80 and construction will soon be underway to extend this road to the US 23 at Harold. A new connector to connect 680 and the John M. Stumbo School is now part of the six-year-plan. The dangerous curve at Meade Hill on Left Beaver Creek is ready for bid as is the Town Branch Bridge, the Bosco Bridge and the Twin Bridges at Martin. Four laning of the Mountain Parkway, talked about for years, is now underway. The dangerous curve at Hite has been eliminated and a new bridge was constructed at Hunter.

The exciting development of Route 66 is now underway. This new Interstate, under the plan approved, will run from near Virgie to Melvin to Wheelwright to Jack's Creek to Ligon to Hi Hat to Kite to the Daniel Boone Parkway near Hazard. This Interstate will open up our area to the industrial Northeast and bring JOBS and commerce centers to our region. Our transportation highway system is better than it has ever been and is getting better.

All this didn't just happen. It is the result of state and federal officials, working with local officials and the people of this area to plan and develop a total transportation plan for our people. We can't afford to stop now and start over but must build on our progress and begin a massive improvement program for our "mail box roads" that run by our houses. Benny Ray Bailey has been there, representing us, in all the meetings and in all the planning. Senator Bailey knows of the importance of good roads for our people and that's why he works hard to improve our roads. That's why we need to keep Benny Ray Bailey as our State Senator.

Kentucky families get option of prepaying college tuition

Parents of young children have no doubt heard the dire predictions of how much a college education will cost in 10 years or so. Some may wonder how many appendages they will have to sacrifice just for the freshman year.

Parents confused about the best way to save money for college will have another option now, thanks to a bill that sailed through the Kentucky legislature this session which offers a chance to prepay college tuition.

Championed by state Treasurer Jonathan Miller, the Guaranteed Prepaid College Tuition Plan allows families to begin making scheduled payments into a trust account based on the existing tuition at a Kentucky university.

For example, if the University of Kentucky's tuition today is $3,000 a year, the trust fund would need to have $12,000 in it prior to the child being ready for college to cover all four years. Even if the UK tuition doubled by the time the child was ready for college, that $12,000 investment would cover the entire cost of $24,000 worth of tuition.

If the child decided to go out of state to school or to a more expensive private school, the money would transfer, Miller said, although any additional costs would have to be paid out of pocket. That is one incentive for getting students to attend Kentucky colleges and universities, Miller said. If the student decided to go to a less expensive school, the left-over money could be used for books or other school costs.

Kentucky will become the 20th state to offer a prepaid tuition program. There is no cost to the taxpayer because the money is invested and is expected to increase at a higher rate than the most expensive public university tuition rise, Miller said.

Parents who invest their money in the stock market might get a higher return than the prepaid program, Miller said, but there is the risk they could earn less.

Kentucky already has the Education Savings Plan Trust, which works somewhat like a regular savings account, while giving families some tax breaks. The prepaid program requires regular payments and guarantees the interest earned will cover the cost of tuition.

If a student receives a full scholarship, all the money will be returned to the family. If a child decides not to go to college or the family is forced to stop making the payments, the amount invested will be returned and a penalty on the rest will be determined, said Jay Blanton, director of policy and communications in Miller's office.

The program will not be ready for operation until August 2001 and Miller has vowed to trumpet its potential across the state. Given the uncertainty of future college costs, every additional option for Kentucky families is welcome.

Guest Columns TV election coverage

For all of their differences, political candidates do care about issues, have one thing in common. Running for office costs them lots of money, particularly for TV advertising. The higher the position being sought, the more expensive it is to get there.

Candidates in this year's national, state and local elections are expected to spend $600 million on broadcast advertising.

The problem is they will likely get little return on their investment. Though political aspirants in 2000 will spend six times more on TV ads than candidates in 1972, voter turnout this year is expected to continue a 40-year trend of decline.

skyrocketed, participation in elections has correspondingly decreased. Only 36 percent of those eligible voted in the 1998 midterm races. Turnout in the 1996 presidential campaign was 49 percent, the lowest for a presidential election in 72 years.

When people are asked why they don't vote, most say their vote wouldn't make any difference. Despite millions of dollars spent on 30-second TV and radio spots, voters often skip elections because they still don't understand what candidates stand for. But people

A 1998 report from the Advisory Committee on the Public Interest Obligations of Digital Television Broadcasters recommended one way its members think would increase voter turnout. The committee suggested that TV stations voluntarily provide five minutes each weeknight of "candidate-centered discourse" for 30 days before an election.

The committee envisions such a five-minute segment as an add-on to scheduled news content. The idea is to give more information about more candidates and

Such a goal is commendable. Yet, is it realistic to As candidate spending on TV and radio ads has ask commercial television stations to give up five minutes of prime time for this project?

That's a question each station will have to answer for itself. So far, 26 stations in 18 states have agreed to participate in the project.

The project should serve as a wake-up call to television news departments that election coverage of candidates and issues is viewed as inadequate by citizens concerned about the future of our system of free elections so vital to the health of American democracy.

Miranda rule works

The U.S. Supreme Court took up an unusual case recently. It dealt with the Miranda warning - that wellknown statement, familiar to every viewer of television cop shows, beginning with the words, "You have the right to remain silent.'

A lower court last year ruled that the Miranda warning isn't the only tool available to the states to protect a suspect's constitutional right against self-incrimination.

At issue is a 1968 law allowing the Miranda warning to be waived in federal cases if it can be established that a suspect confessed voluntarily. The U.S. Department of Justice wants the Supreme Court to overturn the decision, eliminating the possibility of non-Miranda

The case is unusual because it involves a practice that has survived early controversy to become part of basic police procedure.

Ever since the Supreme Court ordered it in 1966, the Miranda doctrine has required police officers to advise a suspect of his right to remain silent and his right to have an attorney present during any questioning. If the suspect makes a statement without acknowledging an understanding of his Miranda rights, the statement can be rejected as evidence.

The notion of treating suspects with such care and respect rankled police officers in the early Miranda years, particularly when the courts showed seriousness of purpose by throwing out convictions in cases where the interrogators forgot to read a Miranda statement. The 1968 law, though seldom enforced, was passed with the intention of getting around the strict application

But seldom do officers forget Miranda these days. It has become second nature. And in the keeping and using of it, America restates every day its respect for the constitutional maxim that "no person ... shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against him-

This is one of those sacred American precepts, like the freedom of speech and the right of trial by a jury of one's peers, that establish the sovereignty of the individual over the power of the state. It is a distinguishing characteristic of America.

Certainly, a person who insists on confessing before the officers can shut him up and read him a Miranda card can hardly be said to have been "compelled." So, maybe, the court will find more room to accept confessions where there can be no suspicion that the defendant's words were coerced.

On the other hand, not everyone knows the Constitution to the letter. A legitimate question exists

Like so many, I do occasionally dabble on the Internet through e-mail messages and surfing the web for various stories or intrigues. Fortunately, I am no longer connected in my residence because the World Wide Web would soon become a vice.

Speaking as a TV junkie, one who finds it hard to divert my attention from the tube, I know how easily I could become addicted to the constant source of billions of pages of "stuff" to browse and peruse.

But there are those who do surf religiously and download daily or even hourly. As I was checking my e-mail this week, I found the letter below written by Doug Thompson. It was forwarded to me from my good friend, Carl Lafferty.

I thought it worthy of my attention. I hope you think so too.

COMPUTER VIRUSES THRIVE ON STUPIDITY

May 5, 2000

It wasn't love that sent an e-mail virus rocketing around the world at cyberspace lightspeed this week. It was old-fashioned, low-tech stupidity.

We got about 200 or so of the "I Love You" e-mail viruses in our in-box on Thursday, which means about 200 people who have our names in their Microsoft Outlook address books were stupid enough to open the Visual Basic Script that held the virus.

According to most news reports, they weren't alone. Millions of computer users worldwide blindly clicked on the attachment and multiplied the problems hun-

That's the problem with technology. No matter how advanced it may be, it only takes a nanosecond of human stupidity to bring it down. You can send warnings out until the cows come home, but somebody will still log on to their email and start clicking away without taking the necessary half-second to stop, take a closer look, and think: "Just what the hell am I doing here?"

Former Congressman Fred Grandy was one of those idiots. Grandy now runs Goodwill Industries. He walked into his office on Thursday, pulled up his e-mail and clicked on the "I Love You" e-mail attachment, even though his in-box also contained a warning from his computer

Zap. The virus went out to more than a hundred of the nation's top CEOs, courtesy of the man whose greatest claim to fame is playing a character named "Gopher" on TV's old "Love Boat"

"I felt like an idiot," Grandy told a reporter. Well, at least he's honest about

Which brings up an interesting question. Why is it that people who may have all the smarts in the world turn into absolute morons once they sit down in front of a computer?

Every day, we get e-mails from people passing on a phony press release about the "Congressional plan to tax Internet email." The release talks about a House Bill 602p sponsored by a Congressman Tony Schnell.

It doesn't take a membership in Mensa to bop over to http://www.house.gov and check to see if there is a Congressman named Tony Schnell or a bill 602p. Those who click over easily discover no such Congressman or House bill exists (in fact,

ARNOLD BRENT TURNER

For Commonwealth's Attorney

As this campaign has progressed, my opponent has made his "experience" the central theme of his campaign. I will not question his sincerity, but he has served as Commonwealth's Attorney before. The irrefutable facts of his record of job performance must be candidly discussed.

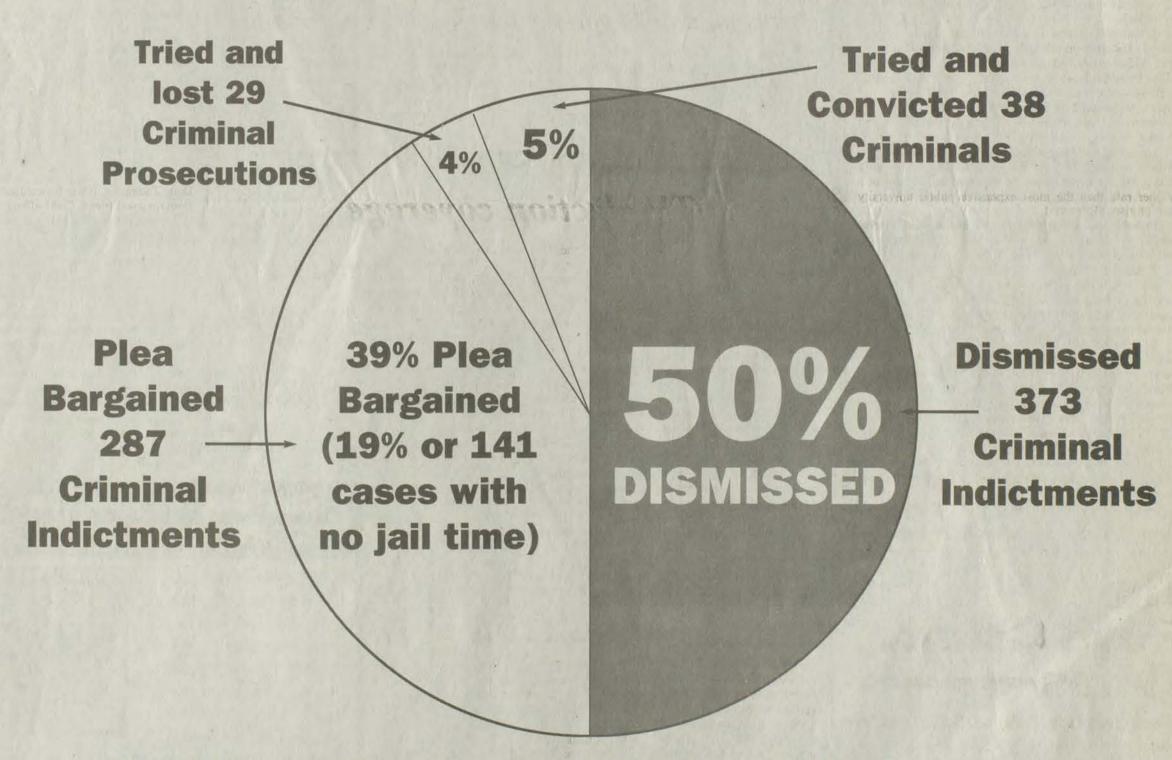

Jerry Patton served as Commonwealth's Attorney from 1988 until his defeat in 1993. Grand juries he assisted returned 1213 felony indictments. In the six years Jerry Patton served, he disposed of 737 indictments, remanding 10 to district court, leaving a backlog of 486 cases when he left office. How he disposed of the remaining 727 indictments is a matter of public record. He voluntarily dismissed 373 indictments. That's over 50% of the indictments that he obtained as Commonwealth's Attorney. There was no trial, no jury, no day in Court. The Grand Jury charged them with a felony, but my opponent simply threw these cases out.

Of what remained, Jerry Patton plea bargained another 287 cases, or nearly 40%, with barely half of those criminals serving any jail time. The remaining 67 cases were all tried by jury. Jerry Patton won 38 times and lost 29 times. This means he only tried 9% of the indictments he obtained from the Grand Jury, and lost nearly half of those trials.

The chart below helps you put all this in perspective. Study it closely. For clarity, the % have been rounded to the nearest number.

JERRY PATTON'S RECORD

727 Dispositions by Jerry Patton of Indictments obtained by Jerry Patton 1988-1993

Again, my opponent speaks of his "experience". Admittedly, he is older and has practiced law longer than I have. But his record demonstrates that the qualifications for Commonwealth's Attorney are more than who's been around the longest. His past performance affirms what I believe. To be a successful servant of the public, there must first be a willing heart to work hard and to strive daily to help those who put their trust in you. If the will to do the job right is absent, no amount of "experience" will make us safe or secure.

That's why I'm asking for your vote. I alone will bring to this job the commitment to work full time, prosecuting the guilty while protecting the innocent. We can make Floyd County a better and more decent place. But it will not be found by turning again to those who have failed us in the past.

Help me win this election and I pledge to serve you with all my might, doing what's right, everyday.

Don't misunderstand. I don't loops. We're not required to become psychos.

But Jesus did say that we would be able to recognize His true followers here on earth - those who maintain a close, abiding relationship with Him - because they would bear specific kinds of fruit.

What did He mean?

Think of it like this. Even if you know next to nothing about botany, you can look at an orchard and, if mean that God wants you be fruit you'll wait for the proper seasons, easily figure out which kind of tree is Eventually apple trees will become heavy with apples. Cherry trees will sprout cherries and peach trees will show peaches. Apple trees won't give birth to grapes. Cherry trees won't produce bananas.

Disciples are like that, Jesus said: "You can recognize them by their

Later, in Galatians 5:22-23, Saint Paul elaborated on the specific varieties of fruit that Christians will develop if they're filled with, and led by, God's Holy Spirit.

Here's Paul's list of the Lord's holy produce in our lives:

* LOVE. The Greek word used in the ancient manuscripts is "agape." It's a special manifestation of love, one God-like in its selflessness and concern for the welfare of others. Curiously, it's not driven by emotions but by an act of the will. That is, true love demands that we perform the deeds of love whether or not we feel particularly loving. We do the charitable thing simply because it's

. JOY. The Greek word here means "cheerfulness" or- an interpretation that I think is richer -'calm delight." People led by God's Spirit tend to be delighted by the world, by God and by other people. They're not bouncing off the walls; they're under control. But they're incurably happy.
• PEACE. The word Paul chose here can be interpreted several ways. It indicates "prosperity." It also can be translated "(to) set as one again." Godly people often are people who previously were broken, fragmented folks. God's Spirit gradually mends the shattered pieces.

· PATIENCE. The King James Version calls this "long-suffering." A person connected to Christ can endure more difficulty than your average Joe or Jill. Another possible meaning is "fortitude." The Spirit gives people uncommon courage.

· KINDNESS. Various interpreters render this as "gentleness," "usefulness" or even "moral excellence." Taken together they show us fruit to ripen on our gnarled branchthat a Christian ought to be a pretty pleasant, reliable neighbor.

· GOODNESS. This is more or less another way of saying "kindness." It re-emphasizes that Spirit-led people tend to be those "salt of the earth" folks we all like and admire.

• FAITHFULNESS. As you know if you read this column often, I believe that, next to love, constancy is the most important trait for anyone who hopes to enjoy success in spiritual endeavors (or any other endeavors). It's the willingness to keep on keeping on, in good times and bad.

· GENTLENESS. An alternate translation here is "humility." In our society that's among the least common qualities. But with God it's vital. 'God is opposed to the proud," one prophet warned, "but gives grace to the humble." Don't toot your own horn. Let God toot it.

· SELF-CONTROL. The root of this word in Greek means "to be strong." Perhaps the greatest strength any human can possess is the ability to discipline his or her own baser impulses. You can control others more easily than you can control yourself.

And so, there you have them, the various qualities God expects us to exhibit in our lives.

Nobody is going to achieve all these virtues immediately upon converting to the faith. It may take years — or decades — for the Holy Spirit's 🥏

But if we're really connected with the true vine, the Lord, our fruit should eventually begin to bud.

Kentucky's strategic plan for employment, training approved

FRANKFORT - Kentucky is to receive federal approval for its five-year Workforce Investment Act plan for employment and training programs.

The Cabinet for Workforce Development led several state and local government agencies and educational institutions in developing the Workforce Development Act (WIA) plan that creates a more comprehensive training and employment system in Kentucky.

The plan was endorsed by the Kentucky Workforce Investment Board before being reviewed and approved by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Gov. Paul E. Patton said that Kentucky has established itself as a leader in the workforce develop-

"Kentucky was one of only 10 only the seventh state in the nation states that chose to implement the federal legislation early," Patton said. "We're among a handful of state whose strategic plans have been approved. Many other states - and the federal government have looked at Kentucky's experience to learn how best to shape employment and training systems.

"Kentucky really is out in front on this issue, and it's something we all should be proud of."

The Workforce Investment Act of 1998 emphasizes coordinating employment and training programs with adult education and vocational rehabilitation. WIA replaced the Job Training Partnership Act

The following summarizes some of the major elements of the legislation and strategic plan.

Investment Board, appointed by the governor, has broad authority to guide the state's workforce development system and coordinate several federally funded programs.

· Local Workforce Investment Boards in geographic service areas work in partnership with local elected officials to set policy for coordinated workforce investment systems in multiple counties.

The local partnerships in each area design and oversee job training programs for adults, youth and dislocated workers. Each local board has an approved five-year plan for their individual service

• One-Stop systems are available for Kentuckians to explore work preparation and career development services and access a range of employment, training and adult and occupational education programs.

· Accountability is based on per-

· The Kentucky Workforce formance measures in the strategic

· The legislation emphasizes a "work first" approach. For example, any individual is eligible for initial core services of a one-stop facility. Those who fail to find work after receiving these types of services are eligible for "intensive services" to help prepare for work or career choice.

Only those people unable to find work after intensive services will be eligible to receive vouchers to pay for training.

· Local boards are identifying eligible training service providers based on minimum criteria established by the state. Training providers remain on a certified training provider list on the basis of documented results. A participant with an individual training account, or a voucher for training services, may attend any provider on the Forest fires continue to keep the Kentucky Division of Forestry busy this spring. Although the Spring Forest Fire Hazard season officially ended on the last day of April, fires are still occurring.

JERRY PATTON

Had A 100% Conviction Rate In Child Abuse Cases as Commonwealth's Attorney. He Had A 95% Conviction Rate In All Cases.

Jerry's opponent thinks he can fool the voters of Floyd County by misrepresenting Jerry's record without any supporting evidence. The fact is, Mr. Turner's numbers are false. Even worse, with these false figures, he criticizes Jerry's record on cases that were not disposed of and on dismissals. Either Mr. Turner does not understand the law, because of his lack of experience, or he wants to mislead you, the public. The truth is, a judge is the only person who has control over how cases are disposed of, and whether or not a case is dismissed. For the record, Jerry Patton has no criticism, whatsoever, of any judge, now or in the past, for the way that they have handled their courts.

It is clear that Mr. Turner is attempting to draw attention away from his poor record by misleading you about Jerry Patton's record as Commonwealth's Attorney. The fact is, Brent Turner has never taken a case before a jury as Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney. This is in spite of the fact that he has drawn a salary as Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney for two years. Now he wants you to elect him as Commonwealth's Attorney, so that he can do more of the same for another six years.

Mr. Turner says that he will not reduce charges from felonies to misdemeanors. Jerry Patton wants you to know that this year, Brent Turner has been assigned two cases, which were reduced from felonies to misdemeanors with probated sentences. Jerry has proof of this. The case numbers, which are in the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office are 99-CR-00028 and 99-CR-00096.

Floyd County needs a Commonwealth's Attorney like Jerry Patton who is ready, mature and prepared to take cases to jury trial. Floyd County does not need another prosecutor who only wants to plea bargain cases down to misdemeanors and recommend probated sentences.

Maybe the reason Mr. Turner is doing so much plea bargaining is that the current administration he works for has lost over 75% of the few cases they brought before juries.

The truth is, Brent Turner works for the present Commonwealth's Attorney who did not run for re-election because of his poor record. The plan is to elect Brent Turner who has promised his boss a job. We need a new Commonwealth's Attorney; in fact, we desperately need a whole new administration in the Commonwealth's Attorney's office. Jerry Patton is the solution.

ELECT JERRY PATTON AS COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY. He will bring Floyd County a welcome change!

EKU orientation scheduled

RICHMOND - Floyd County university student. students who plan to attend Eastern Kentucky University in the fall are encouraged to particiapte in summer orientation at the university.

"This is a tremendous opportunity for new students and family members to better get to know the place where the student will spend much of the next four years preparing for a great career," said Dr. Rita Davis, associate vice president for enrollment management.

More than 1,800 new freshmen, and about that many parents, will get a hearty welcome to university life during this summer's orientation sessions, which start June 16 and continue through July 15. Attendance is required of all new

Those students who need remedial classes will receive special attention during summer orientation. The university is piloting a new program, FIGS (Freshman Interest Groups). All students in need of two or more remedial classes will receive academic assistance.

For all students, summer orientation will include small-group tours, informational sessions and displays, lunch, and an afternoon advising/registration session, after which students will leave with their fall schedules in hand.

Parents are encouraged to participate in an agenda planned specifically for them. They'll attend special programs and have opportunities to visit with various administrators. Services available to students 465-9191. August 1 is the deadline will be explained and a guided tour for admission as a full-time degreewill be offered.

As I look back before graduation day. I realize that I have been a student at Pikeville College during a tremendous time of change and growth. During this past four years, Pikeville College has opened a medical school and changed presidents. There were additions and renovations to several buildings. We gained new faculty, while others have moved on. However, what my President Smith took office. Smith classmates and I have experienced and his wife, Karen, are tremendous professional schools.

When I first came to Pikeville College, the Derriana building held a great deal of mystery. At one time, it was an old, abandoned structure that served as a source of a wide variety of rumors, mostly about young ladies coming to an untimely death at the hands of ex-boyfriends. I can remember walking by at night and feeling eerie when I would look up into its dark interior. After its recent renovation, this building has changed its image dramatically. Now, the Derriana Women's Residence Hall is alive with activity. We students consider it to be the nicest living area on campus.

Another change has been the addition of several new faces at Pikeville College. One major transformation came in 1997 when here has created special memories assets to this school. They give so that we will take with us as we much to this college by encouraging begin our careers or venture off to and supporting Pikeville College in numerous ways. They attend almost every event on campus, while treating the student body as if we were their own children. Most of the student activities that the Smiths attend are created, coordinated, and advertised by Ann Hanson, another new face. She is the lady that knows what's going on. If I have a question about the events for the week, all 1 need to do is look at what's posted or at those little cards that are taped to my door in the morning.

> During my sophomore year, one of the greatest changes in Pikeville College's history took place when Pikeville College School of Osteopathic Medicine (PCSOM) opened its doors to its first class of students. This created a need for more space on campus; thus, a fourth floor was added to Center. Gone are the days when Dr. Hess and students like John Fleming used the top of the stairs for the cantilever event during the Math/Science Olympics. Now, the upper floor houses a lecture hall and numerous PCSOM faculty offices.

These tremendous changes occurred just in my four years at Pikeville College. As I look to the changes that are planned for the future, I wonder if I will be able to find my way around campus when I return to visit. Next year, PCSOM will graduate its first class and open a new medical school library. The undergraduate college will have its first football team. Condit Residence Hall will reopen its doors after extensive renovations. Yet. after all of these changes have occurred, my fondest memories will still be of Pikeville College as it

Jobless rate plunges to 4 percent in March

FRANKFORT - Following a ply stores (600). 25-year trend, Kentucky's unemployment rate dropped from 4.7 percent in February to 4 percent in March, according to the Department for Employment Services, a Cabinet for Workforce Development agency.

Kentucky's March 2000 jobless rate was below March 1999's 4.9 percent rate. The U.S. jobless rate decreased from 4.4 percent in February to 4.3 percent in March.

This was lowest March jobless rate for Kentucky in 27 years," said Carlos Cracraft, the department's chief labor market analyst. "It also was the 13th consecutive month that the state's unemployment rate has been below 5 percent."

Six of the nine major job sectors had employment increases, while one stayed the same from February to March, said Cracraft.

A jump of 4,600 jobs in the trade sector made it the highest increase of any category in March. The greatest gains in this sector were in areas such as eating and drinking establishments (2,400), department stores (1,100), and building materials and garden sup-

"From March 1999 to March 2000, trade sector jobs rose by 10,500 with 6,600 of that in retail trade establishments," Cracraft

The government sector showed the second largest gain in jobs in March with an additional 4,300 positions. More than half of those jobs were in the federal government as census workers were hired temporarily.

Kentucky's services sector added 4,000 more positions in March. Job gains occurred in nearly all services sectors in March but the greatest growth was in business services (2,700), amusement and recreation (900), agricultural services (900) and hotels and other lodging places (600).

Cracraft noted that most of the increase was associated with warmer spring weather. In the past year, the services sector has recorded 17,400 more positions, the highest increase in jobs of all sectors.

The construction sector added 2,700 jobs in March because of warmer weather. Contractors in special trades such as concrete, electrical work and roofing had 1,500 more positions in March.

Heavy construction contractors had 1,100 more jobs in March, while general building contractors recorded 100 additional jobs.

The transportation, communications and public utilities sector had 500 more positions in March.

The finance, insurance and real estate sector had 100 more jobs in March. In the mining and quarrying sector, the number of jobs remained at 21,000 from February to March.

Agriculture reported the largest decrease in jobs as the sector fell by 7,600 positions in March. Cracraft said the number of farm jobs will rise significantly during the spring and summer months.

Employment fluctuations in many industries caused the number of manufacturing jobs to decline by 300. Job losses in industrial machinery (-500), textiles and apparel (-400), food and kindred products (-100) were partly offset by job gains in lumber and furniture (200), paper, printing and publishing (200), and stone, clay and glass products (100).

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics monthly estimate of the number of employed Kentuckians for March 2000 was 1,885,324.

This figure is up 20,424 from the 1.864.900 employed in February 2000, and up 43,536 from the 1,841,788 Kentuckians employed in March 1999.

The monthly estimate of the number of unemployed Kentuckians for March was 78,387. This figure is down 13,693 from the 92,080 unemployed in February 2000, and down 15,785 from the 94,172 Kentuckians unemployed in March 1999.

The monthly estimate of the number of Kentuckians in the civilian labor force for March was 1,963,711. This figure is up 6,731 from the 1,956,980 recorded in February 2000, and up 27,751 from the 1,935,960 recorded for March

The civilian labor force includes non-military workers and unemployed Kentuckians who are actively seeking work. It does not include unemployed Kentuckians who have not looked for employment within the past four weeks.

Employment and unemployment statistics are based on estimates. They are compiled to indicate employment trends rather than actually to count numbers of people who are or are not working.

Body of boating accident victim recovered Tuesday

An extensive and lengthy search came to an end Tuesday afternoon, when the body of a boating accident victim was retrieved from the Licking River.

For almost a week, search crews from the Magoffin County Rescue Squad and Salyersville Volunteer Fire Department, with the help of local volunteers and area search and rescue departments, have searched the murky waters before discovering the body of David Joseph, 34, of Royalton.

Joseph was one of two Magoffin County last Wednesday afternoon near the Magoffin County High School campus.

Rescue Squad prepares for 22nd annual media auction

A call for support that went out recently was answered with generosity by local merchants. Now, the success of the mission rests in the hands of the buying public.

'Not guilty,' say Martin County men

Arraignment for eight Martin County men indicted in the four-year Mexican marijuana drug cartel resulted in notguilty pleas for all defendants in U.S. Federal Court in Pikeville.

Ermil Hinkle was the only one of the nine not to be officially arraigned before Judge Joseph A. Hood. David Evans, Jerry Evans, William "Bill" Chapman, Mark Wilson, Rondal Endicott, Melvin Fletcher, James Arthur Horn and James Thomas Muncy, of Dingess, West Virginia were all released on $10,000 unsecured bonds. James "Slim" Wellman remains in jail.

Judge Hood wasted no time getting to the Martin Contains alleged to have been involved in a multi-state marijuana cartel. FBI agents estimate 10 tons of weed were brought to Martin, Lawrence and Johnson counties during a four-year period dating back to January 1996.-The

The call was sent by the Magoffin County Rescue Squad. The generosity part was provided by business owners, who have donated a total of 255 items. And the mission is the rescue squad's annual media auction.

Child saved from burning car

A 16-year-old Sheldon Clark High School student, who does not want to be identified, saved a three-year-old child from serious injury in a May 2 car fire at Family Dollar store in Inez.

> According to Inez Police Chief Mitchell Williamson, the child was in the back of a car while the father was using a pay phone and the mother was shopping at Family Dollar. During his investigation, Williamson learned the child had been playing with a cigarette lighter and apparently set fire to a jacket. Smoke began filling the car, catching the attention of the 16year-old. The teenager ran over to the car, grabbed the child and placed it into the arms of the father.—The Mountain

Attorney: Accused murderer framed

Johnson County resident Phillip Michael Wagner was killed on a Lawrence County strip mine in 1997 because he either knew too much or didn't want to get involved in a stolen-vehicle operation, a prosecutor said Tuesday during the trial of the man accused of murdering Wagner.

But the attorney for James Grim, the Tutor Key man accused of slashing Wagner's throat on May 18, 1997, claimed that his client was framed by three men who were eventually indicted on federal charges involving the chop shop operation.

Two of those men — Lamza "Lenzie" LeMaster and James Ronnie Cook — testified Tuesday and Lawrence admitted they pleaded guilty to charges connected to a regional chop shop. But they denied they fingered Grim as Wanger's murderer to get a deal with federal prosecutors in the stolen-vehicle operation.-The Big Sandy News

Gibson specifies budget projects

Four days ago, most of Pike County's magistrates were angered by the absence of specific projects they said should have been presented with Judge-Executive Karen Gibson's proposed $58.6 million budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

But Gibson now has submitted a tentative list of such work and is encouraging court members to set up work sessions to iron out the details before the end of the month.

In a memo faxed to all magistrates Wednesday, two days after an ill Gibson missed the presentation of the second budget of her term, the judge put forth a list of nearly 30 possible projects to be undertaken in the upcoming fiscal year beginning July 1.

That list includes everything from constructing a swimming pool at Lower Johns Creek, budgeting at least $133,000 to go toward resurfacing and paving Ford Mountain Road, dedicating $2 million to restore a set of historic buildings at Stone, considering hazardous duty retirement for employees of Sheriff Charles "Fuzzy" Keesee and Jailer Rodney Scott, to purchasing 100 acres of property near the Pike County Regional Airport for future industrial development.-Appalachian News-Express

Suspect freed before new charges lodged

Johnny Ray Turner

Now, more than ever, we need a new generation of leadership; not the same old excuses we've been hearing for years. It's time for the citizens of Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott counties to elect Johnny Ray Turner. On Tuesday, May 23, vote Johnny Ray Turner for state Senator for real results and real leadership.

27 Years Education Experience

"I know what is needed to make our educational system better and aur schools safer for our young people. I've seen, first-hand, the difference a good education can make for our young. Ignoring the changes that need to be made in our educational system is the same as neglecting our children, and that's something I'll never do."

Working for You.

Johnny Ray Turner has a strong vision for the future to enable Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott counties to grow stronger, and that means:

- · Good jobs, so our young people can stay in Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott counties, where their families are.
- Economic development in Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott
- Workman's Compensation/Black Lung reform which will increase benefits for our workers.
- Veteran's programs to help those who have served our country.
- Improved senior citizens programs
- Improving our water and sewer systems.
- Medical reform to make sure everyone's prescription and health care needs are met.

It's time to put the full court press on Frankfort. Join the team and fight for what's right for the citizens of Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott counties! May 23, elect Johnny Ray Turner Senator!

Allen Grade School boys win PIT meet

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

It was a first place finish for the Allen Eagles boys track and field team during the Pikeville Junior High track and field meet last week.

Allen scored 79 points in finishing first among six junior high teams that competed. Blackberry (31) placed second, Pikeville (28) finished third, Dorton (23) fourth, Pikeville Blue (1) fifth, and Pikeville White (0) sixth.

Nicholas Jamerson and Tristian Keathley had three first place finishes individually. Gary Stratton placed first in an event and the relay teams performed well.

In the field events, Patrick Porter finished second in the boys shot put. Jordan Caldwell also took part in the event.

Porter had a throw of 4-feet, 8-inches for third place in the discus.

"He did pretty well in the shot put for us," said Allen coach Dewey Jamerson.

Jamerson was measured at 5-feet even for first place in the high jump event. Robbie Murray was a close second at 4-feet, 8-inches.

"For Robbie, that is four inches better than his best," said the Allen coach.

Jamerson was measured at 34-feet, 2-inches in winning the triple jump. Murray placed third overall. "It was the first time for Robbie in this event," said Jamerson. "He did well.

Jamerson captured his third first place finish in winning the 100-meter high hurdles with a time of 15.32. Gary Stratton placed second at

"This is his strongest event," said Coach

Keathley took home a first place finish in the 100-meter dash as the Eagles took the first three spots. Keathley had a time of 12.68 while Stratton placed second and Murray third.

In the 400-meter dash, Keathley was first at 1.07.33 with Murray running in third position. "Tristian is going to be a dandy," said

The 3200-meter relay team of Jordan Caldwell, Patrick Porter, Charlie Yates and Matt Crisp finished second overall. The 800-meter team placed sixth overall.

In a wild finish, Allen's 400-meter relay team took first place when they were already counted

"I had never seen a team finish like they did," said Jamerson. "Tristian was our closer and the leader had a 10-meter lead on us. Tristian just overtakes the fourth and third place runners and down the stretch, within 10-meters of the finish line, he runs the leader down and wins. The thrill of it all was the look on their faces after they Stratton captured first place in the 800-meter run. He had a time of 2,35.44. Second place went to Jamerson at 2.40.68.

Shannon's bat, Moore's arm lead South Floyd to win

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

Senior Ryan Shannon collected three hits and Nick Moore scattered five Elkhorn City hits in leading the South Floyd Raiders to a 13-3 mercy win over the visiting Cougars at the Drift Park.

Moore had a shaky start but survived the first inning and pitched strong baseball the rest of the way, shutting out the Cougars over the final four innings before darkness set in. He allowed just two hits over the final four after giving up three runs and three hits in the open-

Brian Runyon suffered the loss for Elkhorn City and had to give way to Tommy Adkins in the second inning.

The Cougars put their first four batters on in the first inning in scoring three times for a 3-0 lead. The Cougars hit Moore hard with solid drives. He walked a batter and an error at first base cost the Raiders a run.

Shannon led off the South Floyd first with a grounder up the middle and Mike Hall followed with an opposite field hit, roping the ball to left field. Shannon scored on the play and Joe Skeans walked on four pitches.

After Moore popped out to the mound, Byron Hall extended his hitting streak to nine consecutive hits with a two-run single. Runyon then hit Kyle Tackett and Kevin McKinney drew a two-out walk. Adam Ward singled to load the bases for the Raiders. Shannon then reached on an error and Hall had a two-run double to give South Floyd an 8-3 lead.

Elkhorn City put two runners by walks in the second but could not move them around.

The Raiders dented the plate for one run in the bottom of the second to lead 9-3. Hall collected his 10th consecutive hit with a double with one out in the inning. He scored on Tackett's RBI single.

Moore gave up a third-inning single to Ratliff but the safety came with two out. He hit a batter to open the fourth but got the next three South Floyd pushed home their final four runs in the fifth on back-to-back triples by Josh Stumbo and Shannon.

Tackett opened the inning with a base hit but was erased at second on a fielder's choice. Kevin McKinney walked before both runners scored on Stumbo's triple. Shannon then tripled and scored the fourth run of the frame to give the Raiders a 13-3 mercy win, just ahead

Hall finished with two hits for the Raiders as did Tackett.

The defensive play of the game was made by catcher Byron Hall. On a swinging third strike by Stacy, the ball eluded Hall up the first base line. Hall hustled up the first base line, grabbed the ball and in one motion got Stacy at Hall hadn't played in two weeks after suffering an injury at Allen Central. He had eight hits in his last eight plate appearances. His streak was stopped when his deep drive to right field was hauled in.

The Raiders will host Pikeville at the Drift Park on Monday evening.

Coach Clay returns after brief absence

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

Prestonsburg girls' softball Coach Bridget Clay returned to her team this past Monday night after a two-week absence and the return sparked the Lady Blackcats to a 11-5 win over visiting Sheldon Clark at Archer Park.

Megan Hyden and Angela Howell collected two hits apiece for the winning Prestonsburg team. Howell had a secondinning double and picked up two RBIs.

Whitney Parsons had two hits and drove in three runs. Brook Coleman had a two-run single in the fifth inning.

Stacy Goble went the distance for Prestonsburg in picking up the win. Goble struck out six batters and did not walk a hitter. She allowed Sheldon Clark but two hits in scoring five runs.

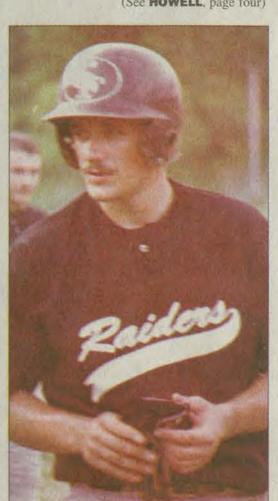

Meade was the losing pitcher for Sheldon Clark, allowing 11 runs on 11 hits, walking six and striking no one out. Sheldon Clark scored first in the opening inning to lead 1-0. The Lady Blackcats looked like a team that did not come to play, committing two mental errors.

In the bottom of the first, Coach Clay had her team awake and ready to play with three runs scoring for Prestonsburg. Howell and Margaret Damron had consecutive one-out singles, with Howell scoring on Amelia Conley's RBI single. Coleman walked and, with two out, Goble lined a double to left center, scoring Coleman and Conley.

Goble got Sheldon Clark in the second inning but did walk two batters. In the bottom of the second, Prestonsburg scored four times for a 7-1 lead, sending nine batters to

Crisp miss hitting cycle in win over Reds

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

Matt Crisp carried a big bat for the Prestonsburg Mets, collected three hits and drove in two runs as the Mets posted a 10-8 win over the Prestonsburg

Crisp only needed a double to hit for the cycle but walked in his last at-bat. He singled in the first, hit a two-run home run in the second and tripled in the fourth.

Joshua Hicks picked up the win for the Mets in going the full six innings. He allowed the Reds eight runs on 13 hits. He walked 14, hit one batter and fanned 14.

Michael Stephens took the loss for the Reds, going five innings. He allowed 10 runs on 13 hits, walking five and fanning 11.

The Reds almost pulled out a win with their five runs in the sixth inning. The big hit for the Reds was Chris Baker's threerun triple. Cory Watkins had an RBI single.

The Mets led 1-0 after the Hall does it all in win over Garrett

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

The Drift Astros were only two games deep in the 2000 season and already collected 13 hits in one outing after posting a 17-1 mercy win over the Garrett Cubs. The two teams are members of the Beaver Creek Little League.

Isaiah Thomas Hall, along with teammate Andrew Lafferty, led the hit parade for the Astros, collecting eight of the 13 hits. Both Hall and Laferty finished with four hits in four plate appearances.

Hall had a double, two triples and single while stealing three bases. Laferty blasted a first-inning home run which was described as one of the longest Little League home runs seen around here, according to Drift Coach Clinis Hall.

"It must have traveled 260feet," said Coach Hall. "I have been around Little League along time and in a lot of places but that is the longest one I have seen."

Shawn Risner picked up the win for the Astros in going the four innings. He allowed Garrett one hit and one run. The

"EVER TIME YOU SLING A LITTLE MUD -YOU LOSE A LITTLE GROUND"

Desperate men do desperate things. When political candidates find they are so far behind or when they do not have positions on issues but are running for reasons other than the best interests of the people, you will find them "going negative." This is a sure sign of hopelessness of their campaign

Benny Ray Bailey has run his campaign on the issues and on his record of service. Each piece of campaign literature produced and publicized by Benny Ray Bailey sticks to a discussion of the issues. That is what our people want and what they should expect from candidates seeking their support.

"I have never believed it makes someone look good to make someone else look bad. We have the finest people in the world right here in East Kentucky. They deserve a discussion of the issues, a positive presentation from their candidates and the right to know where all candidates stand on the important issues facing us. All you have to do to see negative news about our area is read the big city newspapers. We don't need this negative reinforcement presented to our people and to our children. We must stand up for what's good and right in our area and present a positive image for our people and especially our young children," states Senator Bailey.

Everyone should read candidates advertising; better still, ask the candidates their positions, discuss their views with them. Don't rely on xeroxed copies of misleading information, rumors and misrepresentations of the issues. We, in East Kentucky, have a bright future and we are making progress. We must reject the negative campaign tactics and rumor spreading of days gone by and turn our attention to the future. That's how we build a better life, right here in these Mountains, for us and for our children.

Who Needs Enemies?

Benny Bailey has made helping the people of Hazard and Perry County his business; betraying and hurting the citizens of Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson and Knott counties. We're not the only ones who have noticed.

"... Your second Senator from Perry County ... Benny Ray Bailey... The only dang county I've seen that's got two Senators; I've never saw anything like it in my whole life."

- Governor Paul Patton

Record of Shame

"... It wasn't the voters who handed Republicans their first-ever majority in the Senate. It was the Democrats ... Benny Bailey ... The wily Hindman Democrat and mastermind behind the coup."

- The Kentucky Post

"The overthrow of the controlling Democratic majority was crafted by a self-described 'yellow-dog Democrat' ... Benny Bailey."

- Lexington Herald-Leader

The Senate split will end up "hurting the mountains ... Eastern Kentucky has a lot of programs and a Senate divided into three parts will make it more difficult for that area of the state to get adequate funding for the programs."

- Governor Paul Patton

Yanks edge Reds despite long ball

by ED TAYLOR SPORTS EDITOR

The Prestonsburg Yankees survived the home run onslaught late in the game by the to pull out a 13-10 win in Little League play at Archer Park.

Andrew Shepherd picked up the win for the Yankees, who improved to 3-0 on the season. Shepherd had nine strikeouts in the game while issuing 10 walks. He gave up 10 hits.

Brooks Herrick suffered the setback for the Reds in going the full five innings. Herrick fanned 11 batters and walked 13.

Michael Stephens and Sam Chaffin hit home runs for the Reds as they attempted to rally back. Both roundtrippers came in the fifth inning when the Reds scored four times.

The Yankees plated five runs in the fifth in securing the win.

Nick McGuire, Shepherd and Wesley Woods had two hits apiece for the Yankees. All three on Woods' two-run double. had RBIs in the game.

Hyden singled with one out and Howell roped a double to center, sending Hyden home. Damron reached on an error and Conley walked. Coleman then delivered a two-run single.

Goble and Meade settled into a pitching duel over the next two innings before Prestonsburg struck for three runs in the fifth and led 10-1. Designated hitter Spradlin singled and Goble walked before both runners scampered home on Parsons' two-run single. Hyden picked up an RBI when she grounded out.

Sheldon Clark scored three times in the sixth against Goble when she walked five batters and the Lady Blackcats committed their fourth error of the game.

It was 10-4 heading into the bottom of the sixth. Prestonsburg plated two runs in the sixth on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Coleman and Parsons' second hit of the game.

Rescue Squad to hold annual tournament

by RANDELL RENO STAFF WRITER

For 42 years, residents of Floyd County have been able to depend on the volunteer services of one of Kentucky's first and finest rescue organizations. The Floyd County Rescue Squad has served the county tirelessly through the deeds of a few good people for the betterment of those in need. Their operations and equipment are chiefly funded through the Floyd Fiscal Court, but as a whole, most of the money generated is donated by the general first inning with Cory Welch starting the game with a base hit. He scored on Crisp's single. Hicks also had a safety in the inning.

The Reds tied the game in the top of the second on a two-out walk to Wadkins, an error and a basesloaded walk to Chaffin.

The Mets busted loose for five runs in the second inning. Crisp blasted a two-run home run in the inning. Josiah Reno singled with one out and scored on Justin Wallen's three-run double. Hicks then hit the home run to give the Mets a 7-1 lead. The Reds added a single run in the third inning for an 8-1 game. Zachary Clark singled to start the inning and Reno collected his second hit of the game. Both scored on Welch's RBI single. Crisp led off the Mets' fourth inning with a triple and he scored when Aaron Patton bounced back to the mound. Clark also doubled in the inning.

In the bottom of the fourth, the Mets made it a 9-3 game with two runs. Hicks walked the first four batters he faced in the inning with Chaffin picking up an RBI with a walk. Herrick then singled home

The Mets scored their final run in the fifth for a 10-3 margin. Mullins walked and scored on Wallen's base hit.

The five-run rally for the Reds fell short in the sixth.

Hall

Cubs' run came in the bottom of the second inning on a walk and three stolen bases.

"Garrett is young and we have the older kids," said Coach Hall. "But Garrett is a good team. It just happened to be our day and our hits were falling. They are a young team but a solid one.

The Astros scored twice in the first inning on the home run by Lafferty. They plated two more runs in the second on Lafferty's double.

Hall tripled home two runners in the eight-run Drift third. He had his second triple in the fourth inning, when Drift scored five times.

Cody Howell and Ryan Hall had doubles in the third for Drift. Hall's hit was good for two runs batted in. Blake Stumbo had a two-run single in the third frame.

in 1958 after the tragic bus accident that took 27 lives. It was then that dozens of Floyd County residents and businessmen rallied at the old National Guard Armory and established what is today's rescue squad.

From its inception, all personnel have served as volunteers. Funds that are gathered through the fiscal court and through various fundraising projects are carefully spent for equipment and supplies, and maintenance of headquarters and equip-

A major source of the income for the organization has become the annual fishing tournament. This Saturday from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. the rescue squad will hold the annual fishing tournament at Dewey Lake at Swimming Pool Hollow.

The United States Air Force Band of Flight will present a free concert at the Mountain Arts Center on Friday, May 19.

A special bonus related to the 7:30 p.m. performance is that eight area young people, including a Floyd County student, have been chosen to join the Air Force ensemble to play a march.

Rennie Hall, a student at member of the PHS band, under the direction of Mike Bell, plays percussion.

Two Pikeville High School students, Justin More on flute and Gabe Gooch on trumpet, will perform, as will two from Shelby Valley High School, Bob Hall on trombone and Erin Hall on flute.

Also scheduled to perform are Elizabeth Ritchie on tuba and Prestonsburg High School, is Leela Thompson on trumpet, both among those selected. Hall, a of Knott County Central High School, and Tyler Thompson on oboe. Pike Central High School.

Under the command of Lt. Don Schofield, the Band of Flight travels nearly 100,000 miles each year from their home base at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio, to present almost 500 performances before both military and civilian audiences.

Appearances by the band have ranged from the Kentucky Derby parade, the Indianapolis 500 parade and the Professional Football Hall of Fame festival parade to annual shows at the Montreux Detroit Jazz Festival.

The band's area of responsibility reaches from Michigan to Kentucky and from Indiana to West Virginia and includes almost one-quarter of the nation's popula-

The Band of Flight's 60 fulltime musicians make up a number of groups that can meet almost any musical requirement.

The Concert Band performs a wide spectrum of music, from the standard repertoire and commissioned works to original arrangements of popular songs and Broadway show tunes.

The Night Flight Jazz Ensemble plays contemporary jazz from the books of today's great bands and keeps Air Force her-

Salome's Stars

ARIES

(March 21 to April 19)

Your sense of adventure is energized by a challenge you've been hoping for. A loved one has some reservations but can be persuaded to support your move.

TAURUS

(April 20 to May 20)

Your recent unsettled period has passed. Move ahead with those plans you put on hold. An offer needs careful study before you decide to accept or reject.

GEMINI

(May 21 to June 20)

A career move could be in the works, but you might want to question facts that recently came to light. A Libra emerges as the most likely romantic prospect.

CANCER

(June 21 to July 22)

Tense moments in relationships ease up by week's end. In the meantime, be careful not to react in a way that will aggravate the situation.

LEO

(July 23 to August 22)

Children or other kin present problems that you need to deal with. Your strong protective nature reaches out to reassure them that all will soon be well.

VIRGO

(August 23 to September 22)

You've earned the right to enjoy some fun time with friends and family. Someone from your past remembers you with fondness. Expect a call.

LIBRA

(September 23 to October 22)

You might feel the urge to change your surroundings. If you're not up to a major move, you could get the same effect by redecorating your home.

SCORPIO

(October 23 to November 21)

Changes in your workplace could test your decision-making ability. Rely on your self-confidence to help you make the right choice at the right time.

SAGITTARIUS

(November 22 to December 21)

Resist the urge to rush to judgment about friends who might appear to have let you down. You need to hear their sides of the story before you act.

CAPRICORN

(December 22 to January 19)

The times favor a change for the better in your private life. You might still have some sticky wickets to deal with on the job, however. Stay alert.

AQUARIUS

(January 20 to February 18)

A friendship could suddenly move from platonic to passionate. The decision for any change in this situation is ultimately yours to make. Consider it thoroughly.

PISCES

(February 19 to March 20)

You might still be reacting to a stunning revelation from a friend. But it's time to move on. Travel offers a chance to bring someone new into your life.

YOU WERE BORN THIS WEEK:

You're a loyal friend. You love the arts and enjoy singing.

folk dancing

Kentucky Life travels back into evening of folk dancing. Kentucky's past to explore the simple pleasures of bygone eras on the May 20 edition, hosted by Dave Shuffett, on KET at 8:30 p.m.

First, viewers visit Chalybeate Springs in Edmonson County, a center for rest and relaxation in the 1800s. The resort had a mineral spring for "taking the waters" to alleviate health prob-

It was also a place where well-to-do parents brought their eligible children to meet prospective mates. In time, the popularity of Chalybeate faded, and now few remember this once-booming

Next, Kentucky Life travels to Shelbyville to enjoy the hospitality of Don and Sylvia Coffey. Once a month, the couple open their home to a group of friends who join them in a spirited Sylvia explains that folk dancing is easy to learn, fun to do and carries on a timeless tradition.

Shuffett then trades his dancing shoes for a pair of hiking boots as he heads for the great outdoors. Kentucky's state park system has been called the nation's finest, and, in the final segment, Kentucky Life proves why as its cameras explore Pine Mountain State Resort Park, in Bell

Here, spectacular mountain scenery is on display, including mountain laurels and the legendary "chained rock."

Kentucky Life is produced and directed by Joy Flynn. Series writer is Ellen Ballard, Segment producers for this program are Cheryl Beckley, Gale Worth and Ernie Lee Martin. Craig Cornwell is executive producer.

KY Life features KET program garners international recognition

False fat

I was relieved to get a telephone call from my friend Cinder last week informing me that all my worry about extra weight and putting on pounds in the wrong places was for naught.

In other words, the loose flabby skin that I have been accumulating around my midsection and that jingly stuff that hangs from my upper arms is not really fat at all— it is FALSE FAT.

Boy, was I relieved to hear that. I have to admit I was terribly upset when I found out I could no longer zip my size 8 pants or button my small blouses, but when Cinder educated me to the fact that it was only false fat. I just sucked in and tossed my scales.

"What do you mean false fat?" I asked her.

"Well, they said there's seven 'sins' that cause incomplete digestion, so that in reality your body is just bloated. For example, my pants were a little snug this morning from yesterday's eating binge, but now that I'm aware of the circumstances I know that it wasn't the Derby pie, it was the nuts in it; it wasn't the pizza, it was the wheat in the crust; it wasn't the Baskin Robbins' ice cream, it was the dairy; and it wasn't the sugar in the Pepsi, it was FALSE FAT!"

"Who are 'they' Cinder?" I asked, as I opened a bag of Snyder's potato chips.

"It was on the 11 o'clock news," she excitedly said. "I stayed up to watch it. And it's a good thing because all these years I was under the impression that it was overeating and not enough exercise that was causing me to gain weight."

"OK, now, let's see," I commented. "The seven sins are wheat, nuts, dairy, sugar, oil and what are the other two things?"

"Oh, I don't remember," she quickly replied. "I'm just thankful to find out that incomplete digestion is at the bottom of ... my bottom."

Now, Cinder is an intelligent woman. She has an extensive vocabulary and she has acquired a wealth of information about health and life in general. However, I was beginning to worry about her brain cells on this one.

"Cinder, I thought the seven sins were 'Thou Shalt Not Steal, Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness, Thou Shalt..."

"Sara!" Cinder interrupted. "Those are the Ten Commandments!"

"Oh, that's right," I replied. "I was thinking about the seven deadly sins that plagued Egypt. Let's see, there was locusts, frogs, in-laws..."

"Sara!" She cut me off again. "The television was talking about food groups that don't allow you to digest your food properly which results in unsightly fat."

"Then what is this new stuff hanging under my chin?" I queried.

"Oh, that's only loose skin," she answered.

"Loose, skin, my neck!" I shouted. "It's fat!"

"No, that's definitely not a result of fat, that's a result of gravity," she asserted.

"Well, maybe if I hadn't eaten so much pizza, pop and chocolate my neck wouldn't have succumbed to gravity so quickly," I stated.

"That's a real possibility," she said. "But aren't you glad to find out that you really aren't fat? I think it's a revolutionary breakthrough for a lot of people who have been dieting and exercising all these years thinking that they were overweight. I mean, this revelation has changed my life. Now, when I have to buy something two sizes larger, it won't bother me a bit."

"Cinder," I said as I choked on a chip, "you mean to tell me that all these years I've harbored feelings of inferiority, battled low self-esteem, and chastised myself unmercifully for being fat I was really only bloated?"

"It appears so, Sara," Cinder said, flatly,

I was so elated I thought the good news warranted some kind of positive response so I asked Cinder if she wanted to go out and get a pizza to celebrate our good fortune.

News Of The Weird

by Chuck Shepherd

In April, Japan's ultra-serious Seibotu Raiders easily beat a more relaxed European team in the finals of the Kemijarvi international snowball championship in Finland, and afterward, several Japanese players urged Winter Olympics officials to recognize their sport. (Teams start with seven players and 270 snowballs on a field just larger than a tennis court, with some protective barriers; a direct hit eliminates a player, and the first team to seize the other's goal flag wins.)

Punch-Drunk From Litigation: The Brown & Williamson Tobacco company recently added another quixotic 800-number telephone message, this time featuring a male chorus serenading callers with "Oooh, the tobacco plant is a lovely plant / Its leaves so broad and green / But you shouldn't think about the tobacco plant / If you're still a teen." A 1999 message featured a sexy male voice intoning, "Brown & Williamson Tobacco is in love. We're a giant corporation, and you make us feel like a little kitten." "Thank you, lover."

Active Seniors

At a January hearing in LaCrosse, Wisconsin, child-molester Ellef J. Ellefson, 95, was ordered to remain confined beyond his sentence because experts said he was still incorrigible. Mr. Deo Dubbs, 88, was sentenced to probation-only in April in Sarasota, Florida, for buying crack cocaine, which he said gives him "pep." In April, first-time arrestee Ruth A. Goelz, 81, was charged in Hollywood, Florida, with running a $200,000 Ponzi scheme. Retiree Charles John Swanson, 71, was arrested in January for two armed bank robberies, allegedly committed because he was having trouble affording his rent in Palo Alto, California.

Cultural Diversity

Camel Mania: A January New York Times report from Selcuk, Turkey, described the massively popular sport of camel-fighting (in which one-ton camels in mating season simply push against each other until one falls over), which brings fame to the winning owner. And in a March New York Times profile, well-to-do Istanbul builder Ethem Erkoc revealed that he has constructed 10 swimming pools for Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi, who permits his favorite camels to frolic in them.

Henk Otte, 43, lives most of the year as an unemployed construction worker in an Amsterdam, Netherlands, housing project, but he is also the chief of about 40 villages (100,000 people) in a region of Ghana about 45 miles from the capital of Accra. According to a January Associated Press dispatch, Otte was visiting with his Ghanan-born wife in 1995 when suddenly natives concluded he was their reincarnated king. At that time, Otte's reaction was that the villagers were "insane," but now says that being king "is my destiny."

Well, Sure!

Schoolbus driver Alexandre Belvu, 31, was arrested in Brooklyn, New York, in January for taking three kids on a ride that lasted eight hours because he couldn't find their school and apparently would not stop to ask directions.

Unfair Ethnic Stereotypes Come to Life: In March, police chasing an escaped circus tiger in a suburb of Warsaw, Poland, accidentally shot and killed the veterinarian trying to tranquilize it. And according to a February New York Times story, the textile company Francital has developed a fabric

SOAP UPDATES

ALL MY CHILDREN:

After discovering the house-keeper's dead body, Alex and Edmund rushed back to Pine Valley. Dr. Griffin was pleased to see Dimitri was still catatonic. Later, Dimitri overheard Griffin's plan to use him as leverage against Alex. Alex flashed back to Guy calling her Anna. Meanwhile, as Dimitri tried to send a warning message to Edmund, Guy rigged a way to make Alex's death look like an accident. Wait to See: Stuart struggles to regain his memory.

AS THE WORLD TURNS: -

Simon's two discoveries brought him closer to his goal. Denise reached out to Andy's family, although her heart was with Ben. Emily said yes to a dangerous offer in order to get what she's after. Katic and Molly made a shocking discovery about each other. Wait to See: Lily returns with Holden.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL:

Rick reluctantly told Brooke he won't oppose a relationship between her and Thorne because he wants her to be happy. Kimberly swore that nobody will break up Thorne and Macy's marriage. C.J. told Becky he can't imagine his life without her. Later, Sally, Eric, Stephanie and Amber confronted C.J. to tell him that Becky is dying of cancer. Wait to See: Macy makes a decision about Brooke.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES:

Nicole told Eric she's still in love with him. Celeste feared adopting a Caucasian baby could jeopardize Abe and Lexie's marriage. Meanwhile, Stefano continued with his plan involving two pregnant women — Hope and Marlo. Sami and Brandon grew closer. Wait to See: Roman gets evidence that could incriminate Lucas.

GENERAL HOSPITAL:

Lesley Lu assured Lucky that Liz still loved him. Luke was shocked to learn Carly was pregnant with Sonny's child and that Roy is an FBI informant. Stefan showed Laura photos of Lucky in Port Charles. A stunned Hannah learned of Sonny's proposal to Carly. Larkin ordered Sonny to shoot Roy. Wait to See: Liz and Lucky make a decision about their relationship.

GUIDING LIGHT:

Edmund was determined to make changes in his life just as Rob Layne returned to Springfield. Reva saw Noah in a new light. Josh made a fateful decision. Abby and Rick grew further apart. Danny turned to Carmen for help. Wait to See: Richard's plan to scare Rob turns deadly.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE:

Jessica managed to keep Will's whereabouts a secret. Sam told Viki he's sure Nora is still alive. Meanwhile, a man began administering CPR to Nora. Bo and Melanie spoke about losing someone close to them. Colin sent a photo of Nora to the police but it was lost under a pile of papers. Lindsay offered Asa a deal if he would clear Will. Wait to See: Nora's memorial service takes an unexpected turn.

PASSIONS:

Tabitha came up with a plan to ruin the prom for Charity. Hank lied to Sheridan in an attempt to keep her and Luis apart. Eve recalled when she was pregnant before she met TC. Chad met Crystal, who said she knew one of his parents. Eve and Julian arrived separately at the Jazz Club. Sheridan came close to finding mask of Luis in Julian's desk. Ivy urged Sam to revive their old romance. Wait to See: Tabitha has a "bad" premonition.

PORT CHARLES:

A devastated Lucy learned Scott adopted Christina legally, but she didn't. Eve got a special present from Rae. Claire urged Scott to help her claim her right to die on her own terms. Karen's withdrawal symptoms affected her ability to care for Christina. Chris and Julie later berated Scott for leaving the baby in the care of an addict. Lucy received a death threat. Rachel vowed revenge on Kevin. Wait to See: Eve and Kevin's wedding takes a shocking turn.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS:

Jack railed at Nikki after learning she told Kay not to invest in Jabot. Diane overheard Victor and Neil discuss taking over Jabot. Gary forcibly took Victoria to the tree house and tied her up. Later, Paul summoned Victor to the DA's office about finding the collage of Victoria in Gary's home. As Victoria pleaded to be set free, Gary had visions of his old girlfriend, Gabrielle, who taunted him about his sexual inadequacy. Malcolm confronted Dru in Paris to ask why she left without resolving her situation with Neil. Wait to See: Victoria fights for her life. Diane considers how to use her information about Victor and Jack.

SOAP SCRAPS

by Sally Stone

Thorsten Kaye (ex Patrick Thornhart, "One Life to Live") returns to daytime in "Port Charles" playing Patrick's brother. Dr. Ian Patrick, There had been talk that Kaye never wanted to do another soap after "OLTL," but the fact is that it wasn't the medium itself that he resented but rather the excessive (in his estimation) attention he got during his tenure. He felt uncomfortable being singled out as a star in what is, essentially, a repertory company of equals.

Gabrielle Carteris, who was a member of the original cast of "Beverly Hills 90210," will return as Andrea Zuckerman for the show's two-hour final episode airing May 17. Other previous stars are also slated to join in, including Tiffany Thiessen (she no longer uses her middle name, Amber) who played Valerie Malone from 1994 to 1998. The show's creator, Aaron Spelling, promises a finale we'll remember, and hints that there could be a wedding or two in tow.

李章章

Susan Lucei (Erica, "All My Children") will host the Daytime Emmy Award show which will air live from New York City's Radio City Music Hall May 19 on ABC.

New attractions and lodgings add to Orlando

(NAPSA)-Just when you thought Orlando couldn't possibly fill another hotel room, the central Florida boom city known for its hundred thousand-plus rooms has added a few hundred or so more, not to mention new restaurants, new shopping, new attractions, new shows and parades. Pity the poor traveler trying to figure out where to stay and what to see and do via information from friends who went two

That's why Fodor's, the world's largest travel information publisher, now updates its guides to Walt Disney World, Universal Studios and Orlando, not once a year, like most other publishers, but twice.

The guide is literally packed with insider tips on getting the best deals, on beating the crowds, and on the must-sees. It even advis-

The Fodor's experts also offer the inside scoop on all the key hostelries in the Orlando area, from price range and amenities to location, transportation and accommodations. Among the tips for choosing a hotel in Orlando:

• Remember time is money-and Orlando traffic jams can approach legendary status. Figure out which parks you want to see, and pick a hotel that's close by.

. Shop around for the best rate. Call the hotel directly as well as the 800 number. Call discount-reservations services such as Hotel Reservations Network (800/964-6835) and Quickbook (800/789-9887). Consult your travel agent. Even for the same hotel on the same dates, you'll find different rates from different sources.

· Look into package deals, which include theme-park tickets and transportation to and from the parks. These can save you money.

. If you're traveling with your family or a large group, choose one of the many allsuite hotels, which have a kitchenette where you can make breakfasts and snacks or a rental house or apartment, where you can cook many of your own meals. This will save you money-not to mention the hassle of rounding up the troops for every meal.

. If you want to get away from the parks, explore the option of B&Bs like Perri House Bed & Breakfast and small hotels such as the Park Plaza in toney Winter Park, on the north fringe of Orlando. Small, individualized properties do exist and make a great break from the crowds of the parks.

For more tips and the inside line on all of Orlando's new attractions and lodgings, consult Fodor's Walt Disney World, Universal Studios and the Orlando Area, Spring/Summer 2000 Edition ($15), available at bookstores nationwide and online or by calling 800/533-6478. 'Secrets of the Dead' examines history's mysteries through science

Why did the great airship Hindenburg explode? Why did Greenland's Vikings disappear? What happened to the peaceful ancient Pueblo civilization of the American southwest?

Did a cataclysmic event plunge humankind into the period known as the early Dark Ages?

Today, scientists from a wide range of disciplines, armed with advanced technology and a determination to know the truth, are penetrating myth and legend to arrive at important conclusions about the causes and consequences of these dark mysteries.

These high-tech investigators and their discoveries are the subject of the series, "Secrets of the Dead." airing over three consecutive nights in May on KET.

Airing Monday, May 15 at 9 p.m., "Catastrophe!" looks at the theory that a gigantic volcanic explosion equal to two thousand million Hiroshima-size bombs - caused an environmental calamity that began the Dark Ages.

The next night, Tuesday, May 16 at 8 p.m., "The Lost Vikings" examines the mysterious disappearance Greenland's most famous residents.

Finally, on Wednesday,

Happened Hindenburg?" studies the end. famous aircraft catastrophe, and "Cannibalism in the Canyon" looks at the May 17 at 9 p.m., "What Anasazi and their utopia's

the sudden and mysterious

From folk to folksy, performances on KET include O'Connell and Lovett

Two well-known artists bring their musical vision to KET as Maura O'Connell warms up the Jubilee stage and Austin City Limits is awash in the cool sounds of Folk singer Maura O'Connell, a star in her native Ireland, brings her unique voice to Jubilee, Thursday, May 18 at 10 p.m. on KET. A Nashville resident since the mid-1980s, O'Connell continues to lend her sweet soprano to the traditional times of her homeland.

Taped last summer at the Master Musicians Festival in Somerset, this performance marks the return of O'Connell to Jubilee.

Lyle Lovett has been a movie star, a famous spouse and even tabloid fodder. But what he does best is write and perform some of the most iconic roots/country music known to the American genre.

Returning to Austin City Limits, Friday, May 19 at 10 p.m. on KET, Lovett and friends provide a satisfying taste of their deep well of talent.

Jubilee, a KET production in its fifth season, is produced and directed by H. Russell Farmer. Austin City Limits is produced by KLRU/Austin and Capital of Texas Public Telecommunications Council. Both shows are closed-captioned for the deaf and hard-of-hearing.

British Virgin Islands beaches: A perfect paradise

(NAPSA)-Two idyllic British Islands Virgin beaches were chosen when Good Morning America scouts were combing the Caribbean for perfect their vision of paradise. When touring BVI, they discovered two out of the three Caribbean beaches they were looking for-Little Dix Bay on the island of Virgin Gorda, and Deadman's Bay on Peter Island.

Both locations had the swaying palm trees, broad untainted white sand beaches and iridescent blue green waters they were hoping to find. The beaches were showcased on Good Morning America, in mid February, a time when the show highlights sun, sand and sea in five different tropical locales.

The live broadcast from Little Dix Bay included footage of an on-location Cosmopolitan Magazine fashion shoot and a beachfront performance by Leon & The Hot Shots, a local fungi band. The live broadcast from Deadman's Bay beach on BVI's Peter Island featured cricket players and the Pan Vibes, a local steel band.

BVI offers visitors an array of charming villas, cozy hotels and elegant resorts set against picturesque ocean views and spectacular sunrises. For more information on the British Virgin Islands, call 1-800-888-5563 ext 925.

San Francisco: City by the bay, airport for the buyer (NAPS)-Try to arrive an hour or so before you have to anytime you fly into or out of San Francisco International Airport. Then you'll have time to enjoy some of the spectacular shops that can be seen there, and bring home great products from the city where you may well leave your heart.

Increasingly, airports are sporting shops that can surprise and delight travelers as much as the stores in the city the airports serve.

In San Francisco, for instance, when Host Marriott Services completes its remodel of stores, the Golden Gate Connection will consist of six boutique areas that reflect the city's myriad shopping experience. From the offbeat nostalgia of the sixties in the Haight Ashbury boutique, to the artsy offerings of the SFMOMA Museum Store: from the diverse selections of gifts and souvenirs of the South of Market boutique to the ever-popular regional and gourmet foods of Cannery Shop; and from the Aviation Store with its obvious thematic references to San Francisco International Airport to the recreated experience of Union Square for the serious "shopaholics."

TIPS ON TRIPS

In a second location, San Francisco News Exchange, Host Marriott Services, the company which has invested millions developing airport shops around the country, has concentrated on providing the customer with an experience geared towards convenience, ease of access and speed of service. San Francisco News Exchange will exemplify the traditional newsstand, with a broad selection of newspapers, candy-snack items, magazines, books, stationery, postcards and other drug and sundry items. Construction on both the Golden Gate Connection and San Francisco News Exchange will be completed by the summer, 2000

Other existing retail shops at San Francisco International Airport include Simply Books, News Exchange, Wilsons Leather, Watch Zone, Sunshade Optique, Specialty Gifts and Souvenir, Aviation, Inc. and Awesome

Host Marriott Services is the leading food, beverage and retail concessionaire at nearly 200 travel and entertainment venues, with approximately 26,000 employees in eight countries around the globe. With revenues of $1.5 billion, it's best known for its unique business approach that combines internationally known brands with regional favorites in airports, travel plazas and other attractions.

Summer travel outlook

(NUE) - What's the travel outlook for this summer and beyond? Consumer confidence remains high, and the end of the Asian financial crisis means international travel will continue

More than anything, travel in the year 2000 will be defined by a continued reliance on the Internet. The Travel Industry Association of America reports that more than 52 million people used the Internet for travel planning last year, more than twice the number of a year before. Internet travel planning has increased more than 1,500 percent since 1996.

This helps explain the popularity of travel-themed Web sites. But a casual Web surfer may be daunted by the sheer number of sites available - more than a million Web pages on travel themes alone, according to one popular search engine.

A new Web site called GeoTravels.com makes things easier for consumers interested in travel planning on the Internet. Instead of a computer search engine, real human beings have culled through thousands of Web sites to find the best travel sites, all linked together in one place for easy "surfing."

The travel experts at GeoTravels.com have identified some of the hot travel trends for the coming year, including these:

- · More exclusive discounted online fares. Airlines use special fares to draw more customers to the Internet and to fill empty seats. Hotels, car rental companies and cruise lines are doing the same thing.
- · European travel. Good exchange rates are making traditional destinations more popular. Italy is drawing a lot of attention because more airlines are now allowed to fly there.
- · Holy lands. The year 2000 has generated interest in historic travel to the Middle East, especially now that security worries about Y2K have eased and the political situation is exceedingly optimistic.
- * Australia. There will be a travel boom "Down Under" after the Summer Olympics have beamed by television into more than a billion households. Smart travelers may decide to beat the rush.
- · Mexico. Some travelers will stay away from traditional Caribbean destinations due to concerns about the lingering effects of GeoPortals.com.

1999 hurricane damage Pacific Mexican destinations are, no pun intended, very hot.

· Eco-tourism. It's a growing market segment for baby boomers. Look for Panama, which recently reclaimed its famous canal, to make a big push for ecofriendly tourism. The Canopy Tower in Panama's Soberania National Forest was cited by the Audubon Society as one of the 10 best places in the world for bird-watching.

New novel warms chilly nights

(NAPSA)-The story of an amazing gift from the sea is told in the newest tour-de-force novel from acclaimed author Diane Chamberlain, Summer's Child (MIRA Books,

In this compelling new mystery, Daria Cato became a hero when she discovered an abandoned newborn child on the beach near her North Carolina home.

Now, 20 years later, that baby, Shelly, has grown into a beautiful, but child-like, woman, whom Daria continues to protect. Shelly is determined to solve the mystery of her birth and to do so, she enlists the help of Rory Taylor, a friend from Daria's past who is now a noted television producer.

As Rory begins to delve into Shelly's past, the very foundation of the small coastal community is rocked by long-buried sins and closely guarded secrets. No one, however, is truly prepared for the final, shocking truth.

Summer's Child is available wherever paperbacks sold. Or are www.mirabooks.com.

CRITTERS CORNER

by Carol Combs-Morris, DVM

May 21-27 is National Dog Bite Prevention Week.

This is an annual campaign presented by the Humane Society of the United States and co-sponsored by the American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Veterinary Behaviorists. American Medical Association, American Society of Plastic Surgeons, American Veterinary Medical Association, Centers for Control Disease and Prevention/National Center for Injury Prevention and Control. Independent Insurance Agents of America, National Animal Control Association, State Farm Insurance Companies, and the U.S. Postal Service.

Wow! Those are some pretty prestigious organizations. Why so much support for this particular cause, when it seems that every week is National Something-or-Other?

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta estimates that nearly two percent of the U.S. Population is bitten by a dog each year. That is more than 4.7 million people each year, and most of them are children.

In the period from January 1997 through December 1998, 27 people died as a result of dog bites. Nineteen of these victims were children, and most of the eight adult victims were elderly.

Does it seem odd that I would bring this up in a column that is very pro-dog? Not really. The message that National Dog Bite Prevention Week wants to convey is that most dog bites are preventable.

The Humane Society of the United States offers these suggestions toward reducing the likelihood that your dog will bite someone:

- Spay or neuter your dog— Altered dogs are three times less likely to bite.
- Socialize your dog—Introduce your dog to many different types of people and situations, so he or she is not nervous or frightened under normal social circumstances.
- Teach your dog appropriate behavior—Set appropriate limits on your dog's behavior, and don't wait for an accident. Seek professional help the first time he shows any aggressive behavior.

Be a responsible dog owner— Provide regular health care, including rabies vaccinations. Don't allow your dog to roam. Make your dog a member of the family—dogs who are well-socialized and supervised are much less likely to bite.

We also need to work from the human end of the problem to reduce the chances of becoming a dog-bite victim. Several members of the Eastern Kentucky Kennel Club are doing just that by going to schools, scout meetings, youth groups to present dog-safety programs to children. We try to present a message that is practical and easy to remember, as well as being fum for the kids.

Here's the approach my presentation partner, Teresa, and I use:

Children are usually very excited about a "dog talk." We spend a couple of minutes introducing ourselves and the dog we have brought along—usually Teresa's "Jack" or my "Mollie," who are both superfriendly, laid-back types who love kids.

Meanwhile, we size up our audience for a child that seems outgoing and not easily upset. Our initial attentiongetter is for one of us to suddenly go up to that child, lean over, and begin to hug and pat him or her while talking (a little too loudly) about "How Cute!"

Then we step back and ask this child if that startled him. (By this time the entire class is looking at us as if we just landed from Mars).

We go on to explain that this is what it feels like to a dog when someone who is much bigger "swoops down" on him suddenly—he is startled and maybe scared. This may be the first time a child has ever considered that he actually seems large to something else.

Now that we have their attention—and boy, do we have it—we go on to explain that ALL DOGS WILL BITE, because that is how they defend themselves, We then tell them that dogs are different in how easily they are provoked to bite; for Jack and Mollie it would take someone being very mean to them to cause them to bite, but even they would do it under the right circumstances.

For that reason, you should never try to pet a strange dog if no one is around, and if you see a person's dog you would like to pet, always ask "May I pet your dog?" and proceed only if you have permission. You should let the dog sniff your hand first, this is being polite to the dog, like shaking hands with a person.

The rest of the talk goes something like this:

If a strange dog approaches you, you should never run from it. The first rule is: Be a tree. Stand very still, and fold your arms. Be aware of where the dog is, but do not look directly at it. Walk slowly away at an angle to the dog.

If you fall or are knocked down, the second rule is: Be a rock. Roll up into a ball, curl your fingers, and protect your face and ears with your arms. In both cases, the dog will probably just sniff you, decide you aren't very interesting, and leave.

You need to tell an adult about the dog. Be sure to tell an adult if you are ever bitten by a dog.

When we finish the talk, the children line up and practice asking "May I pet your dog?" and then show that they know how to greet a dog politely by offering their hand to sniff. Their reward is getting to pet Jack or Mollie.

For more information on dog bite prevention, contact the HSUS, 2100 L. Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037; 202/452-1100 or go to www.nodogbites.org.

If you would like to have a program presented to your group, you can reach the Eastern Kentucky Kennel Club through me, at 358-9913.

Election programs on KET provide statewide coverage

In a presidential election year, it's easy for some political races to be overshadowed. However, several key Congressional races take place in Kentucky this year, as well as races for the state Senate and KET's Election 2000 programs give Kentuckians the opportunity to meet the candidates while also providing in-depth political coverage and analysis.

Scott Reeve signed a new three-year contract to continue as Ryan McNeil on "The Young and the Restless." Meanwhile, Sabryn Genet, who plays Ryan's wife Tricia, is said to be in contract negotiations and it's uncertain at this time if she'll remain with the show. Ashley Jones, Tricia's sister Megan, has already opted not to stay with the series.

Beth Ehlers will continue on "Guiding Light" as Harley for at least another three years. Executive producer Paul Rauch says fans can expect fireworks as the Jim/Beth/Phillip/Harley Anthony Addabbo, Beth Chamberlin, Grant Aleksander, Ehlers) relationships continue to unravel.

Congratulations to Ellen Dolan (Margo "As the World Turns") on the birth of her daughter, Angela Emmett, on April 15. Kudos, too, to "ATWT's" Cassandra Creech (Denise) who just wrapped up the HBO movie "Disappearing Acts" debuting this

First, "Election 2000: The Candidates" allows viewers to become familiar with the views and stances of candidates vying for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Airing from KET studios at 8 p.m., Wednesday, May 17, a live forum features the Republican candidates for the first and fourth Congressional Districts. At 8 p.m. the following night, the forum features Democratic candidates for the fifth and sixth Congressional Districts seats.

A forum for the Democratic candidates in the third Congressional District airs live on KET2 Tuesday, May 16 at 8 p.m.

Moderated by Kentucky Tonight 's Bill Goodman, the forums include statements from each of the candidates, followed by questions from reporters. The candidates are also allowed a limited time to question their opponents.

Then, at 7 p.m., Tuesday, May 23 on KET, "Election 2000: The Primary Vote" provides comprehensive statewide coverage and analysis of these races as well as races for state Senate and House positions.

Barbara Deeb of WKYU-TV/Bowling

Green and political analyst John McGarvey of Louisville are scheduled to anchor the live program.

Also scheduled to provide analysis of the results are David Hawpe of The Courier-Journal and Larry Webster of the Appalachian News-Express.

By partnering with commercial television stations and newspapers, reports will be issued throughout the evening from sites across the state.

The programs are KET productions, produced by George Rasmussen.

Do late-night satire and political cartoons inform public political debate even more than newspapers and television news? On Tuesday, May 16 at 9 p.m. on KET2, comedy writer and famed talk-show host Dick Cavett and President Bill Clinton's humor writer Mark Katz join journalists and humorists for a discussion of this and other election-year questions.

The two-part program features two panels of experts.

Moderated by Gwen Ifill of Washington Week in Review, the first - "Following the Money: Covering Campaign Finance" looks at whether public frustration over campaign finance abuse has led to dissatisfaction among voters, how the media have influenced the debate over campaign finance, and whether the press should be offering recommendations for resolving

The second panel, "Humor and Satire: How They Spin the News," examines the relationship between humor and the public perception of politics. Nightline's Ted Koppel moderates.

Among the questions discussed are: How much do late-night talk shows, political cartoons and satirical songs shape political debate? Has humor coarsened political debate or is it essential for a healthy democ-

The Kentucky Historical Society has announced the installation and opening of a new exhibit at the Old State Capitol in historic downtown Frankfort.

The exhibit, titled "The Public Square," focuses on the variety of events and structures that have been part of what locals call "the Old State Capitol lawn."

Photographs and maps tell the story of the three Kentucky capitols that have stood on the spot. Artifacts recovered during archeological digs are a fascinating window into the past.

The exhibit was curated by Michael Jones, a recent addition to the staff of the Kentucky Historical Society.

Hours for the museum at the Old State Capitol are Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sundays, 1 p.m.-5 p.m. All museums of the Kentucky Historical Society are closed on Mondays.

The Kentucky Historical Society is an agency of the Education, Arts and Humanities Cabinet. The Kentucky History Center is the headquarters of the Society and is located in historic downtown Frankfort.

specially treated to absorb perspiration and body odors for people who can't bathe for up to 30 days at a time; the company is headquartered in France.

Jose Chavarria, 37, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in Adel, lowa, in February. He had killed his friend Jorge Villalobos only minutes after lamenting to friends that a psychic had told him that Villalobos was planning to kill him first.

Well-Put

Sang Lee, the owner of a custom slaughterhouse near Minneapolis-St. Paul that serves the Hmong-American community (and speaking to a St. Paul Pioneer Press reporter in January concerning complaints about heavy slaughterhouse traffic): "We (Hmongs, natives of Laos and Thailand) have a complex culture, and we have to sacrifice animals a lot."

Learning to Kill Before They Learn to Shave

In February, an 8-year-old boy, coming to his mother's aid, stabbed her abusive boyfriend to death in Coker Creek, Tennessee. And in an Islamic public execution in Kandahar, Afghanistan, in February, a 10-year-old boy, now the eldest male in the family, took a rifle and did the honors to the man who had killed his father. And in Dover Township, New Jersey, in March, a 10-year-old boy argued with his father over missing chocolate icing and then, when the father sar-castically suggested the kid just take a knife and kill him, the kid complied.

Update

In the five years since Bill Davis made News of the Weird by settling his 20-year dispute with Rhode Island over the pile of 10 million used tires (he says it's 30 million) on his property in Smithfield, contractors have gradually removed 4 million tires, at 79 cents each, and sold them as fuel. Federal and state officials still believe that a fire on the land would cause catastrophic environmental damage to

Narragansett Bay, in that each melted tire would release about a quart and a half of oil. (A similar fire in Westley, California, in September burned for a month.)

Least Competent Criminals

Ill-Conceived Crimes: In Biloxi, Mississippi, in January, Ronald Dean Cherry, 52, was arrested after he called the Treasure Bay Casino and threatened to start shooting their customers unless the company delivered $100,000 within two hours to his home (address helpfully provided by Cherry). And Ronald Keith Graham, 45, was arrested in Des Moines, Iowa, in February and charged with burglary; according to police, he had stolen a TV set but rather than try to sell it to one of Des Moines' other 200,000 residents, he invited its former owners to his apartment, where he offered to sell it back to them for $150 and even suggested an easy payment plan.

Also, in the Last Month ...

A 26-year-old woman started an agency to say prayers for people too busy to say their own (at $1.50 a day and up) (Milan, Italy). A woman was convicted of arranging for her lover to get a penile implant using her estranged husband's health insurance (New York City). A 20-year-old, brand-new mother was arrested in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; she had allegedly dealt $650 worth of cocaine from her room in the maternity ward. An Israeli rabbinical council authorized three tons of bread for starving Ethiopians but, because it was Passover week, was forced to send only religiously correct but notoriously hard-to-digest unleavened bread. The Centers for Disease Control estimated that a 20-cent tax increase on a six-pack of beer would reduce gonorrhea in young adults by 9 percent.

'Beyond the butterfly'

"I'm really insecure about my looks and my personality," Megan Nicole says, "When I was 10 or 11, I didn't have a lot of worries. I wasn't worried about losing my friends to death, to suicide, or to drugs and alcohol or to sex.

"And now, it's like I'm afraid to be happy because I know that, maybe tomorrow, maybe things won't be so good."

The development of girls into young women has been likened by some to the transformation that takes place in the creation of a butterfly. A 60-minute documentary airing Saturday, May 20 at 8 p.m. on KET2, presents middle-school girls speaking candidly about what is going on in their own and other teen-age girls' lives.

To create the program, girls from throughout Wisconsin and parts of Michigan and Ohio were given a video camera and asked to record their thoughts, feelings, discussions and activities for a week.

In revealing and sometimes poignant moments, the girls chronicled their experiences with sex, substance abuse, parents, domestic violence, eating disorders, suicide, self-esteem and, of course, school.

From nearly 100 hours of tape, the topics that occurred most often were identified, and representative clips were blended together to create the program.

The result offers a compelling chronicle of what it is to be young and female in the United States.

"Beyond the Butterfly" is co-produced by Wisconsin Public Television and NEWIST/CESA #7 (Northeastern Wisconsin In-School Telecommunications).

Viewers can find out more about programming on KET2 by visiting the KET Web site at http://www.ket.org, a Kentucky.com affiliate.

Two-part Mystery! based on origins of Sherlock Holmes

In 1886, Arthur Conan Doyle, inspired by the forensic genius of his professor and mentor at the University of Edinburgh Medical School, Dr. Joseph Bell, wrote the first of his immortal Sherlock Holmes stories.

Now, Mystery! presents a two-part drama based on Dr. Bell's previously unknown undercover work, recently discovered in private letters and papers.

"Murder Rooms: The Dark Origins of Sherlock Holmes" airs on KET Thursdays, May 18 and 25 at 9 p.m. The program repeats on KET2 Saturdays, May 20 and 27 at 9 p.m.

Dr. Bell taps the young Doyle to be a prototype Dr. Watson in his sleuthing adventures. Sir Henry Carlisle, a philanthropist devoted to the medical school, becomes embroiled in the extraordinary case, which features a cameo appearance by Jack the Rinner. The mystery unfolds in 1878 as the university is in an uproar over the introduction of female students, one of whom — Elspeth Scott — catches the eye of fellow medical student Doyle.

He is less enamored of his new professor Dr. Bell, who insists that observation and analysis are essential medical skills.

Scriptwriter David Pirie notes that "Murder Rooms" is "based on a true story. It has been known for a long time that Joseph Bell, who taught Conan Doyle at Edinburgh Medical School, was a model for Sherlock Holmes. What is not so well known is that Bell was carrying out secret investigations for the Crown."

Mystery! "Murder Rooms: The Dark Origins of Sherlock Holmes," produced by the BBC and WGBH/Boston, is closed-captioned for the deaf and hard-of-hearing.

Yatesville Lake welcomes campers

One of the Kentucky State Park System's newest campgrounds is welcoming campers for its first full season.

The Yatesville Lake State Park campground near Louisa in Lawrence County opened last June. It is the first state park campground to offer campsites accessible only by boat. There are 16 such primitive sites.

The campground also maintains 27 developed sites, each offering 600 square feet of space and driveways long enough for RVs and trailers. Each has a grill or fire ring, picnic table, lantern stand, water pedestal, and electrical hookup. Six are double sites designed for two campers. Three others comply with the standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The park also offers four primitive sites adjacent to the New for this year is a playground expected to be completed by Memorial Day, said Park Manager Mark Reeder.

Nightly camping rates during the peak season are $16 for a developed site, $10 for a boat-in site, and $8.50 for a primitive, hike-in site. The campground will operate seasonally through October 31.

Boaters are starting to keep the park's new marina busy, as well, Reeder said. The facility, which opened in the spring of 1998, offers 140 slips.

European Rail Saverpasses

STRETCHING TRAVEL IDEAS

(NAPSA)-A new twist in travel on European trains has come into vogue that many say is one of the best deals you can get in travel for two or more travelers.

It's called a Saverpass and it's available in most European countries for families, couples, friends and others who want to travel together.

For example, if your family or group of two or more wants to go to Europe and visit France, Switzerland and Italy for a few weeks, by purchasing Europass Saverpass, good for five days of first class travel during one month, the cost comes to $296 per person. If you were traveling alone on a regular first class Europass, the price would be $348. The more who travel, the bigger the savings.

New this year are the Saverpasses for individual countries like France and Switzerland. For groups of countries Europass Saverpasses permit travel in at least five countries, while Eurail Saverpasses allow travel in 17 different nations-from Ireland to Hungary, Italy to Sweden.

On the right track for two or more rail travelers in Europe is something called Saverpass.

Trains excel because they go directly from city center to city center, permit easy sightseeing and offer a chance to meet Europeans in a comfortable environment.

For more information call 1-888-382-RAIL or visit Rail Europe's web site at www.raileurope.com.

Tennessee State Parks preserve America's historical heritage

(NAPSA)-Whether you are a history buff or a student on a school field trip, Tennessee State Parks have educational opportunities and special events throughout the year.

Tennessee has nine state parks that offer a historical look at Tennessee's unique past. Two parks are classified as archaeological areas and are among the best-preserved land in the nation.

Old Stone Fort State Park, located off U.S. Highway 41 in Manchester, Tenn., is an archaeology lover's dream. A 2,000-yearold American Indian ceremonial site, this state archaeological park is dedicated to the preservation, protection, study and interpretation of this significant ancient culture. Programs may be scheduled yearround for school groups and other organizations. The park hosts weekend summer activities as well.

1,162-acre Pinson Mounds State Park is the largest Middle Woodland Indian mound group in the United States. Discovered in 1820, the mounds date back to about 500 A.D. Pinson Mounds is noted for its forest and fields, wildflowers and creeks. Archaeology programs, films, and festivals are scheduled from time to time. A museum, designed to replicate an Indian mound, houses the park offices, an archeological library, an 80-seat theater, 4,500 square feet of exhibit space, and the West Tennessee Regional Archaeology Office. Fieldwork normally is held in the summer, and visitors are welcome to watch the archaeologists at work.

Sycamore Shoals State Park is located on the banks of the Watauga River in beautiful Elizabethton, Tenn. Famous for the role it played in the westward movement of the 1700s, Sycamore Shoals was the first established settlement outside of the original 13 colonies. An exact replica of Fort Watauga stands near the Sycamore Shoals river crossing. The Visitors Center houses an interpretive facility with information, historic displays, and a 450-seat theater.

Sergeant Alvin C. York was decorated with numerous medals for bravery displayed in World War I. Sergeant Alvin C. York State Park has been dedicated to this American hero. The historic area lies beside the Wolf River and includes a picturesque gristmill, the rock ledge where York was married, and his beautiful home and farm. Park grounds include picnic pavilions and playground equipment. York's burial site at the Wolf River Cemetery is only a short drive away. Sergeant Alvin C. York State Park is located in Pall Mall, Tenn., north of Crossville on Highway 127.

Seeing Stars

(NAPSA)-A site for starry eyes is serving up more than just a daily dose of destiny.

Beyond basic horoscopes, this site boasts astrology in the areas of career, celebrities, family, karma, love, money, travel, women and more, each with insights that are relevant to women's lives and can help them make decisions to realize their full potential.

The Web site,

Astrology.net, can be reached through iVillage.com: The Women's Network. Nancy Evans, the Editor-in-Chief of iVillage.com, describes the astrologer, Kelli Fox, as "a no-nonsense astrologer, who sees astrology as yet one more way to help us with the decisions we make." Fox does not use astrology as a predictive tool for the future, but rather as a guide to help people learn more about themselves.

Fox has also cooked up a guide geared towards the new millennium. Her personalized star reports are free and available instantly online. For those who want more in-depth reports, they can be purchased for a low cost and delivered immediately to a personalized Web page. The star reports also make great gifts.

The astrology channel combines iVillage.com's goal of providing real solutions for women in a welcoming environment with Fox's unique blend of down-to-earth astrology. She uses astrology as a guide that can help people make better informed decisions.

iVillage.com is the leading women's network online. To view the site and seek the signs of your life, go to www.ivillage.com or AOL keyword: ivillage and click on "astrology."

itage alive by remembering the music of Major Glenn Miller.

The Huffman Prairie Winds woodwind quintet performs the standard quintet literature, commissioned works and special arrangements in a variety of chamber music settings.

The Wright Brass, a brass quintet plus percussionist, apply their musicianship — often with a touch of humor — to styles ranging from Bach to the Beatles.

Systems Go, the band's popular music combo, plays everything from rock to rhythm & blues and from country to jazz.

The Contemporary Clarinet Quartet, the Band of Flight's newest ensemble, revitalizes chamber music old and new with their instrumentation.
